Japanese culture a treat for students

Sociaey Hans staff writer

JUMI HASEGAWA has learned an American tradition—the value of playing and relaxing—since arriving in West Bloomfield last April for a six-month visit.

The 21-year-old Japanese student saved for eight years for her trip to the United States through the International Internship Program in To-Rich States through the International Internship Program in To-Rich States through the International Internship Program in To-Rich States through the International Internation Program in To-Rich States and International International Program in To-Rich States and International Internat

At right: First grader Kristen Schlott (left) works with Yumi Hase-gawa learning the ancient ert of Japa-nese naper folding ancient ert of Japa-nese paper folding, called Origami. Hasegawa taught Kenbrook Elemen-tary students to make fish, snakes, hats and other items.

Relaxing and learning a new cul-ture is an important part of her ex-perience, and she has settled right in to enjoy it.

Hasegawa said she loves many parts of American culture, and is currently taking driver's training.

eurrently taking driver's training.

"SHE SPENT the first two weeks at the window, watching squirrels, birds, raccoons — all the things we take for granted," Hawlik said. When she wasn't at the window, she was "closer than a shadow" — following Hawlik around the house to learn about thush tollets. American beds and pillows, and some of the things so new to her experience. So far in America, her experiences have been shared throughout Ken. So far in America, her experiences have been shared throughout Ken. The standard of the proof is classrooms, in other Parmington elementary schools and on recent visit to West Hills Junior High in the Bloomfield Hills school system.

High in the production of the Hawlik's first graders received a special education in Japanese culture, and love the small young woman from the ancient city called Takada City. They practice their Japanese words daily, and each student can spell his or her name in Japanese.

can spell his or her name In Japanese.
"They can count very well, and play games," the young visitor said about the 6- and 7-year-olds, "They tried Japanese tea and can use chopsticks."

sticks."
Hasegawa's first glimpse of the Detroit area was an expressway trip
from Detroit Metropolitan Airport to the Hawilk's West Bloomfield
Township house.

IN ONE word, everything in America is "big." Most people are taller than the petite exchange student, and the houses, yards and buildings are all extremely large compared to what surrounds her in Japan.

"Ours is an old, small Japanese house," sho sald. "There is no bed, no yard—one big room with a lot of sliding doors."

Her disciplined Japanese life be-gan at the age of 3 when she began studying traditional classic Japanese dance. This began a life of very trad-itional, disciplined Japanese culture, where roles are well-defined.

Her delicate hands work constantly making origami animals, fish, snakes and cranes — which are very important in Japanese culture.

EACH SIXTH grader in Japan visits the city of Hiroshima to place a chain of 1,000 origami cranes at the base of a memorial. In Japanese cuture, the crane means "peace, good health and good luck."

health and good luck."
This summer, Hasegawa will travel with the Hawilis to New York to Florida to deep sea fish, and will then travel to California with a friend for a two-week trip.
"It has been an education for me," Hawilk said. "To actually live with someone everyday. She's very talented and bright."
"When she goes home, it will be very hard," she added. "She has learned to play."

Japanese exchange student Yumi Hasegawa teaches Japanese words and her culture to first graders at Kenbrook Ele-

Men's Spring Clearance

police/fire calls

Listed below are some of the Farmington-area police and fire calls received during the past

CANT THEFT

A Detroit man faces felony charges after he allegedly stole a car from a Farmington Hills apartment complex carly flursday.

The alleged through the stole of the

A pan of cooking oil left unattended on the stove overheaded and ignited in the kitchen of a house on Castlemeadow Wedneddy night. Flame damage was confined to the kitchen counter and cabinets, but there was smoke damage throughout the 14-story house, it. Peter Baldwin of the Farmington Hills Fire Department said.

Damage was estimated at $7,000.
The occupants extinguished the fire, using baking soda. Firefighters ventilated the house on their arrival about 7:50 p.m.

• ROOF FIRE

◆ ROOF FIRE

A welder cutting metal undermeath the roof deek of a Farmington Hills building inadvertently ignited tar paper and the fire spread to several sheets of insulation Wednesday afternoon.

Flame damage was confined to roofing materials at Medar Inc.,
38700 Grand River. The loss was estimated at $2,500, sald Lt. Peter
Baldwin of the Farmington Hills
Fire Department.

Balawin of the Farinington Inital Balawin of the Farinington Inital Priro Department.

• CASH TAKEN
Farmington Hills detectives are trying to determine if there's a connection between three cases of cash-snatching June 3 from Orchard Lake Road office buildings. About $155 was reported taken.

About noon, a woman described as in her 40s ploted her head in the door at 25822 Orchard Lake, then left. A short time after, a receptionist went to the water fountain. On her return, she found money missing from her wallet. A secretary told police she had seen a woman standing in the hall nod her head as if motioning for someone to come. An older man was at the opposite end of the hall at the time, according to a police report.

At 12:15 p.m., a woman entered the office area of 27830 Orchard Lake and asked to see a certain person. When told no one by that name worked there, the woman left. Soon after, two employees returned to their work stations to find money missing from their purses. At 12:20 p.m., money was discovered missing from the purses of a receptionist at 29226 Orchard Lake, according to police reports.

DAMAGE REPORTED

DAMAGE REPORTED
Listed below are some of the damage reports filed with local police agencies during the past week.
Two thres were slashed on a car parked on Gramery Court May 20-31. Damage was estimated at $450.
Two thres were slashed on a 1986 Mustang parked at Tom Holzer Ford, 3930 to 18 Mile, June 3-4, Damage was estimated at $700.
Two thres were slashed on a car parked at Short's Auto Parts, 29440 Grand River, June 5. Damage was estimated at $80.

THEFT'S REPORTED

THEFT'S REPORTED

Listed below are some of the thefis reported to local police agencies during the past week:

A CB valued at $150 was reported stolen from a van at Tom Holzer Ford, 39300 10 Mile, May 15-4une 4.

Four spoked hubcaps valued at $115 were reported stolen from a car parked at Kmart, 30800 Orchard Lake, May 31.

A bleycle valued at $150 was reported stolen from the bleycle rack at Wooddale Elementary School, 28600 Peppermill, May 31.

A 1985 Chevrolet Camaro valued at $15,000 was reported stolen from Quality Inn, 31252 12 Mile, June 2-3.

A stern drive valued at $3,200 was reported stolen from the motor of a boat parked in the lot at National Boatland, 28400 Grand River, June 2-4.

1985 Ford Eccort valued at $3,000 mar reported stolen from the root of a boat parked in the lot at National Boatland, 28400 Grand River, June 2-4.

2.4.
A 1985 Ford Escort valued at 8,000 and reported stolen out of Detroit was recovered from the Echo Valley Condos June 3.

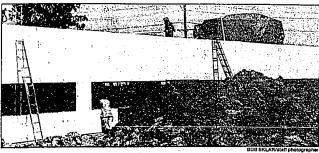

We planned our spring clearance now so you'll still yet months of wear from our collection of lightweight suits, sportcosts and slacks. Save 25% off the original prices from famous makers including Cricketer, Bill Blass, Daniel Hechter, Evan Blass, Daniel Hechter, Evan Picone, Austin Reed, Harr, Schallner & Marx, Arthur Winer, Raphael and more Suits, reg. $225 to $375 sain 157.97 to 279.97. 6500 salo 157.87 to 275.97, £500.*
Sportcoats, ep. 345 to 5185,
salo 107.87 to 177.97, 5000.*
Stock, reg. 355 to 580,
salo 25.97 to 59.97, 1500.*
Does not include basic, yearround or Valva Plus Items.
Selection will vary by stora.
Normania charge sor of leterations. Men's Cothing.
Suits ovaliable at all Metro stores plus Fint, Tolded, Ann.
Arbot, Grand Rapids,
Seginaw, and Fort Wayna.*

25% OFF ALL SPRING SUITS, SPORTCOATS

AND SLACKS

hudsons

ESE YOUR HUCSON'S SHOPPING EARD, VISLY MORNICON'S The American Correst Carrier Decouping Care.

BOD SKLANVISH Prology Farmington Hills firefighters doube a roof fire at Medar Inc.'s building addition Wednosday afternoon.