

300 photographs wait for pickup

The Moto-Photo staff is looking for the 300 youngsters who had their pictures taken, maybe unaware, during Founders Festival. The photos are displayed in the shop at 23346 Farmington Road in Down town Shopping Center. They can be picked up any time during regular

Einstein B'nai B'rith marks 30th Anniversary

B'nai B'rith Albert Einstein Lodge and Chapter will hold its annual Israel Bond dinner dance beginning with cocktails at 5 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 17, it was announced by Jack Seiderman and Rachel Groves, lodge and chapter presidents.

The dinner, in Adat Shalom Synagogue in Farmington Hills, will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the founding of Einstein Lodge. A program is planned commemorating the three decades of service by the lodge on behalf of the Jewish people and honoring all past lodge presidents.

The Israel Bond Organization will present the lodge with a plaque citing the anniversary, in appreciation of Einstein's long-time support of the bond program for Israel's economic development.

Israel Bond chairmen for the lodge and chapter are Henry Dorfman and Sally Biederman. Tickets for the dinner-dance may be obtained from ticket chairman Sam Sietzer, 546-3645, or Lola Pines, 352-5035.

In advance of the dinner, Dr. and Mrs. Irvin Gastman will host a private Israel Bond reception in their Bloomfield Hills home with guest professor Stephen Berk, historian and authority on Soviet Jewry and politics of the Middle East.

Sailing class offered

The Michigan Council of American Youth Hostels offer one more sailing class in the season, set for Sept. 12-14 at Foote Hostel, in Milford.

Fees include class materials, shore school, meals, dorm-style lodging and two days of hands-on experience on the hostel fleet.

The Michigan Council is at 3024 Coolidge, Berkeley. For information, call the council at 545-0513.

Jack and Miriam Shenkman

Concert will honor the Shenkmans

Reservations are being now for the dinner and concert that will honor Farmington Hills residents Jack and Miriam Shenkman Tuesday, Sept. 22. The evening begins at 6 p.m. in Masonic Temple, Detroit.

The event is sponsored by Lubavitch Foundation of Michigan. Pinchas Zukerman will direct the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra.

The honorees are active supporters of furthering education. Among their many contributions are the establishment of an endowment scholarship at Bar-Ilan University, an academic chair in Post Biblical Foundations of Western Civilization at Jewish Theological Seminary's Rabbinical School, a library at Yeshiva Beth Yehuda in the Farmington Hills Chabad House, and a synagogue in Ann Arbor's Chabad building.

Jack Shenkman is a past president of United Hebrew Schools and has been active with that organization for 25 years.

Miriam Shenkman is the recipient of Jewish Theological Seminary's "National Community Leadership Award."

THE 50-PIECE St. Paul Chamber Orchestra has won much acclaim since Zukerman became its music director six years ago. Zukerman brought back formal dress and attracted major international artists to perform with the orchestra. Under his direction the orchestra's subscription base tripled, the number of full-time musicians increased, the local season expanded to more than 80 concerts, and annual income rose to nearly $5 million.

The September concert here will feature selections by Shostakovich and Mozart.

Paul Borman and David Hemelin are co-chairmen for the evening. Tickets are $125 each and can be purchased in blocks of 10 for a table. Those who purchase four tickets at the cost of $500 can be listed as part of the dinner-concert committee.

Reservations are taken by calling Lubavitch Foundation, 626-7023 or 548-2668.
