

Leontyne Price guest at Ford Auditorium

Soprano Leontyne Price will give a recital as part of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's Great Performance Series at 8:30 p.m. Saturday. The series presents some of the greatest artists of our time in special gala events.

Price's 32-year operatic career culminated in 1985 when she sang the lead role in Verdi's "Aida" at the Metropolitan Opera. Since then she has returned to recitals, her "first love."

She is the recipient of America's highest civilian award, the Presidential Medal of Freedom, which she received in 1985 from President Lyndon Johnson.

Her program at Ford Auditorium will include works by Handel, Mozart, Marx, Strauss, Puccini, Poulenc and Holby. Her accompanist will be David Garvey.

For ticket information, call 567-1400.

A view of the ancient past

"Elba to Damascus: Art and Archaeology of Ancient Syria," which opens at the Detroit Institute of Art Wednesday, Feb. 18, will have nearly 300 objects forming a panorama of Near Eastern civilization spanning 10,000 years. At left is a sculpture of a balding, bearded, wide-eyed Sumerian land surveyor named Shubum standing in eternal worship before his gods, circa 2500 B.C. At right is a memorial relief of Agmat, identified as mother of Nebozabad and wife of Barikat. The exhibit continues through May 3.

CANCER. NOT KNOWING THE RISKS IS YOUR GREATEST RISK.

A lot of people think cancer is unbeatable. That simply isn't true. In fact, over two million people have had cancer and survived to lead happy, normal lives. And not only can cancer be beaten, it can also be prevented. There are definite precautions that have been proven to decrease your risk of getting certain cancers. Talk with your physician about how often you need cancer-related checkups. Ask your local American Cancer Society to send you a free booklet about cancer risks. Learn the facts about cancer. And make not knowing the risks, one less risk.
