Crowley's Chief Tops Mich. Week

Robert E. Winkel, president and general manager of Crowley, Milner and Co., Detroit, is the new deputy general chairman of Michigan Week for eastern Michigan.

His appointment was announced by Dewey F. Barich, president of Detroit Institute of Technology, general chairman of the 76th annual Michigan Week May 17-24, 1969.

Winkel, a resident of Franklin in Oakland County, is president of the Detroit Retail Merchants Association and a director of the Detroit Board of Commerce. In the 1968 Michigan Week he was chairman of the Organizations Board, directing 25 state committees.

Previously he was chairman of the state committee on Livelihood Day, which is always Wednesday of Michigan Week. As deputy general chairman he succeeds Postmaster Edward L. Baker of Detroit, who held the post for three years.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

COCA BEAN SHELLS: Is it true that cocoa bean shells make the soil soft, attract mice and snakes, and injure plant growth? The answer is no. None of these charges is true for the shells, which are of any other mulch material. These have a chocolate aroma which disappears in a week, and there is no evidence that the much attracts animals of any kind.

The shells will often mildew or turn white from decay or heating but this is nothing to worry about. The shells are neat-looking and are ideal for rose beds, in composts, around trees and shrubs and in flower beds. They are about 92 per cent organic matter, 3.2 per cent nitrogen, and 2 per cent potash. As a mulch, apply about two or three inches thick in the border or around trees or shrubs.

PLANTING BULBS: If your tulip bulbs grew last year but failed to flower in spring, change as they need dividing. There's still time to do the job. While overcrowding is a main cause of failure to bloom, keep in mind that February's light is another reason. This causes the buds to turn brown or "blast" without opening. Dig up bulbs, dust with captan and fungicide. Also keep the plants sprayed with captan or zineb, starting in early spring. Also, keep manure away from tulips and peonies because of the chance for spreading betrytis blight.

GREEN TOMATOES: What's the best way to store these late ripeners? Many gardeners like to pull up their tomato vines and hang them upside down in a garage, where the green tomatoes gradually turn red.

Another trick is to pick the green tomatoes and place them on a wire tray in a cool cellar. Place a piece of paper over the tray and then put the green fruit on the paper. In this way, some of them last until Thanksgiving.

Do NOT store tomatoes in a bright sunny window. Light is not necessary for ripening. If you pick green tomatoes, best temperature to store them is about 55 degrees. At this temperature, color development will take place slowly and fruit will keep longer.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: A reader writes: "Is it true you can start your own red and black raspberry plants by letting the tips of canes touch the ground?"

Answer: Black raspberries are started this way. Take a shovel, make small hole in soil, put tip of raspberry cane in it, cover with soil, stamp with foot and by spring the tip will be rooted. Red raspberries are started from shoots which sprout up from area near plant. Take a shovel in spring and dig up the "sucker" shoots; replant where you want them.
