

Woodcarvers show at Waterford Oaks

The Waterford Chippers and Carvers will host their fifth annual Woodcarvers Show and Sale from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 11.

It will be in the Activity Center of Waterford Oaks County Park, on Watkins Lake Road between Pontiac Lake and Scott Lake Roads. Admission is $1. Refreshments will be offered.

The event is co-sponsored by the Oakland County Parks and Recreation.

Work by more than 40 carvers from the United States and Canada will be on display. The show features carved aquatic creatures and cartures as well as whittled pieces. First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in 25 categories. Best of show, best display and best of second place will also be recognized. Individuals interested in participating in the event should call Ed Gray at 623-7551.

The panel of judges will include Hans Bolte of Troy, a well-known carver and teacher of carving. The recent "Birds in Art" tour displayed Bolte's "Canada Goose" at museums in New York, St. Louis and Massachusetts.

Carving techniques will be demonstrated and tool dealers will display their wares.

Children's Village supervisor lauded

Diane Marie Collins, children's supervisor at Oakland County's Children's Village, has received the Michigan Juvenile Detention Association (MJDA) 1987 Division I child care worker of the year award.

Division I is comprised of juvenile detention centers across the state which have 45 beds or more.

Falcon project called success

Life in downtown Detroit suited four peregrine falcons just fine, says the committee that promoted the birds.

"With one out of the five birds injured, our program is still above average when compared to releases in other cities," said Bob Hess, a state Department of Natural Resources biologist and coordinator of the Peregrine Return Committee.

Five of the predatory, diving falcons were released atop the tower of the Guardian Building, now owned by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. One was injured and returned to a hatching lab in Minneapolis. The other four have scattered and are believed to be hunting their own food.

THE PROGRAM was financed by the state Nongame Wildlife Fund and contributions from MichCon, Stroh Brewery and the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. Gas company employees and Audubon Society members monitored the birds' movements from the Fourth of July to Labor Day.

Wildlife experts were to gather Saturday at Point Pelee, Ontario, to watch the peregrines migrate south. The point, which extends into Lake Erie, is a major landmark for birds.

Peregrine Return members want to raise funds to release six more birds in 1988 and 1989. Each bird costs some $3,500 to plant — counting attendants, food and office supplies.

The local committee is part of a nationwide effort to reestablish the falcon in the lower 48 states. The goal is to establish 10 breeding pairs of the endangered species in Michigan by the year 2000.
