

Showing folk art

The Country in the Inn show of American folk art will be held in Meadow Brook Hall on the Oakland University campus, Rochester, 4-9 p.m. Friday, Nov. 20, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 21. The artisans showing reproductions of 18th- and 19th-century wares include Dorothy Wroten of Union Lake, Dottie Teddies, and John Collins of Orchard Lake, hand-carved decoys. There will also be quilts, baskets, sail glass pottery, braided rugs, forged iron and samplers. Many of the artisans have been featured in national magazines. Admission charge.

Duo to perform for music study club

Israeli-born Yizhak Schotten will be accompanied by his wife, pianist Catherine Collier, in a program of viola-piano duos for the Music Study Club of Metropolitan Detroit on Tuesday.

The concert at the Birmingham Temple, 28611 W. Twelve Mile, Farmington Hills, is open to the public. The $3 admission includes dessert and coffee served at 12:15 p.m. before the concert.

Schotten, former principal violist with the Cincinnati and Houston symphony orchestras, has been active as a recitalist, has soloed with Osawa, Schippers and Felder, and is on the faculty at the University of Michigan. Collier, also on the faculty, has had a distinguished career as a soloist, chamber musician and accompanist.

The program will feature works performed on Schotten's forthcoming recording, including "Five Old French Dances" by Martin Marais, a Divertimento by Joseph Haydn, Max Bruch's "Romance," Benjamin Britten's "Lachrymarum" and "Reflections on a Song of Dowland," and Theme and Variations by Alan Shulman.

For information, call Elaine Kohner, 851-3662.
