Warriors eliminate GP South

By Marty Budner

Let's call it destiny.
On a delightfully sunny mid-November day in what can best be described as the quintessential indian Summer afternoon, it only seems fitting that a band of football players nicknamed Warriors would emerge ting that a band of football players nicknamed Warriors would emerge trumphant.

With tribal ringleader Jason Wolf heading the ambest, Brother Rice scales of the state of the scales of rolled to a 21-7 balfitme advantage. However, unlike the win over Ferndale, the Warriors never really had the game under control despite the fact South played all day without its leading rusher (Steve Rice who was out with a bad back) and three-quarters of the game minus starting quarterback Bryan Jones (who suffered a second-quarter injury and never returned).

"It was another fast start for us, but then we gave them a touchdown and they were right back in the and scored four touchdows in a game." said Fracass. "I thought they moved the ball on us — we struggled a little bit. But it wasn't all bad. If you win an easy game sometimes it's a little harder to win the next week."

Brother Rice's "struggles" centered around an unusually high three turnovers and a few uncharacterstic defensive secondary breakdowns. Wolf, though, was at his slicing best and that was enough to compensate for the Warriors mistakes.

The senior All-State candidate scored all four of Rice's touchdowns and rushed for 158 yards on 37 carries. Wolf, who entered post-season play with 10.17 yards rushing, now has gained 289 total yards and has scored six of the elgh Rice touchdowns in its first two playoff games. "We knew Jason Wolf was a good running back, but when he starts those 34 moves at one time that's really hard to stop," said Grosse Pointe South coach Jon Rice, whose Blue Devils finished the year with a 9-2 overall record.

"We have to prepare for (CC) like 've never prepared before," said we've never prepared before," sald Fracassa, who will take a personal 150-29-2 Rice record into the game. "It will be tough."

White Fracassa is not making any predictions, he did say this current Rice squad has as much determination as any team ho's ever coached.
"This team still has the same enthusiasm and pride as some of the other teams I've had," said Fracasa. "I don't like to compare teams, but this team is certainly living up to the tradition of (Rice) teams in the past."

Sturts scored six touchdowns during the season, Landrum had four runs of 70 yards or more and Kinght ran 75 yards for a touchdown in the last game.

The roster also included eighth graders Doug Borgsdorf, Carls Cheney, Brendt Cole, Mike Fleisch-F., Paul Gilvydis, Damny Gunsberg, Eric Hewett, Jeff Monash, Brian-Monczka, Brad Pawlowski, Jourtan, Shore Frusinkich Seller, Danny Slager, Brad Pawlowski, Darren Spilman, Josh Toblas and Jack Wilks. Other seventh graders on the team were Pat Earls, Bradd Hosking, Ryan Moore and Jeremy Young. Sith graders are not allowed to play middle school football, and seventh graders can play only if they weigh 125 pounds or more. Plus, A and B squads play against the opponent's respective A and B outifus.

Furthermore, teams can only practice 1½ hours a day Mouday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Games are played on Thursdays.

"That's great as a coach," Gorman said. "The kids have time to do homework, you're home by 4:30 and you don't overwork the kids."
