

Oakland coach can't help be optimistic

By C.J. Risaak
staff writer

Greg Kampe sounded almost optimistic. The Oakland University mens basketball coach's addresses to the media at the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference pressroom media meeting had been consistent in his first three seasons: downcast, gloomy, a forecast of impending doom.

After listening to his always-brief speech, one was left with the feeling that if the world ended before the season started, it would mercifully save the Pioneers.

Of course, OU hasn't played like that at all during Kampe's three-year tenure. After back-to-back 13-15 records, the Pioneers posted a 20-8 mark in 1986-87, going 10-6 in the GLIAC, their first winning season ever in the conference.

That is why even a coach preferring to present a pessimistic preview would have trouble with this season's OU squad.

THE PIONEERS are loaded. And they can be counted on to challenge for the GLIAC title — and a berth in the NCAA Division II tournament — even though they've lost two (perhaps three) of their top eight players from a year ago.

The absentees will force OU to adopt a different look. Dave Hintz, the 6-foot-7 junior center who made the all-GLIAC defensive team a year ago, severely injured his knee in a pick-up game over the summer and is lost for the season.

Also on the sidelines is 6-6 sophomore forward Stacy Davis, who has voluntarily left the team. Davis has reportedly had trouble adjusting to his role with the team, and his weight has hurt his progress.

The losses of Hintz and Davis have taken the inside power from the Pioneers. But eight other players — including five returnees — give OU enough talent to make it a contender.

"I LIKE to say we have a starting eight," said

OU sports

Kampe. "That's how deep we are. When you have as many good players as we have, starting isn't important."

"That's why we're going to change our style of play to an up-tempo type of game, baseline-to-baseline pressure."

The Pioneers will also be primarily an outside scoring team. "We're going to be a very perimeter-oriented team," Kampe predicted. "When we need a basket, we'll go to Bittinger."

That's Scott Bittinger, the 6-6 senior guard who was all-GLIAC last season and a member of the conference's all-defensive team the two years prior to that. Bittinger averaged 18.4 points and three assists a game as a junior.

"He's the senior, he's the guy we'll go to in the clutch," said Kampe.

This season, Bittinger — who has often split his time between point guard and off-guard — will be established at off-guard, thanks to the addition of Brian Gregory. Gregory, a 5-9 sophomore from Mount Prospect, Ill., played as a freshman at Navy with David Robinson and made it to the NCAA final eight.

"He's our Ish Thomas," said Kampe. "He'll have nights when he'll pop in 30 points. He's a true, legitimate point guard, the first we've had since I've been here."

GREGORY'S ABILITY isn't the only bright addition for OU. Andre Bond, a 6-4 sophomore guard/forward from Willow Run, is another super scorer. Bond went to Kent State for a year, then dropped out of college for two years before coming to OU.

And there's 5-9 freshman guard Rickey Miller, another shooter. Bittinger, Gregory, Bond and Miller give the Pioneers "four guys who could shoot better than 50 percent from the three-point line," Kampe said.

OU won't have to rely solely on its outside game, however. Even with the loss of Hintz and (possibly) Davis, the Pioneers have capable inside players. Problem is, they aren't real big.

Leading the returning frontcourters is 6-7 junior center John Henderson. Henderson was a pleasant surprise for OU a year ago, coming off the bench to average nearly 10 points and five rebounds a game.

"TO BE honest with you, of all the guys here he's the one I'm happiest with," Kampe said of Henderson. "He's really developed. If you remember, I said when we recruited John that by his junior and senior years he'd lead us in scoring. Well, he may not lead us, but he'll be darn close."

Also back is 6-3 junior Mike McCan. Kampe's prior recruit of last year, McCan "played great early and great late (in the season), but was down in the middle," his coach said. McCan — who attended Indian Hills Community College for a year before transferring to OU — still paced OU in rebounding, getting 8.5 a game. He scored 6.9 points.

In an effort to maximize his potential, Kampe told McCan "we want him to rebound and stop somebody on defense. Anything else he does is a bonus."

Another valuable frontcourt player is 6-7 senior Pete Schill, who started 23 games last season and averaged 10.1 points and 4.8 rebounds.

Wallace Davis, a 6-3 sophomore guard, will also contribute, as will 6-8 sophomore center Skip Townsend. Rob Alvin, a 6-3 senior guard from Birmingham, Groves, is out indefinitely with a knee injury.

As for the coaches' pre-season poll — OU was picked to finish third in the league — Kampe was surprised. "I thought we'd be picked much higher."

But, as he knows well, it isn't where your team is picked pre-season, it's where it ends up post-season.

Greg Kampe usually takes the pessimistic approach, but even he is sounding a little like an optimist heading into this season.

Dashed hopes Pioneers try to recover from major losses

By C.J. Risaak

Bob Taylor figured he just about had it made.

With his second season as Oakland University's women's basketball coach just over the horizon, Taylor — who guided the Lady Pioneers to a 21-7 overall record and an 11-5 mark in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference — scanned a superb recruiting class and smiled.

"I thought that after last year, with our top nine players returning and a recruiting class like this, we could be a national contender," he said.

Then the bottom fell out. Margaret Boyle, OU's all-GLIAC point guard, left school for personal reasons; Sonja Pearson, a starting forward, was lost to academic problems; and two of the promising recruits were out before getting to school, one to academic woes and the other to injury.

As Taylor put it, "It seems like a calamity."

BUT DON'T write off the Lady Pioneers just yet. Taylor isn't.
