

Danceabout Series announced

Detroit Dance Collective will hold its 5th Annual Danceabout Series Feb. 9-13 at the Royal Oak Campus of Oakland Community College. Concerts especially designed for high schoolers will take place Tuesday through Thursday at 10 a.m. while concerts created for the whole family will take place on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m.

For the first time high school students have been invited to share the stage with the Collective. Special guests will be the singers and dancers of Kimball High School in Royal Oak who will perform in dances choreographed for them by the Collective.

The boys and girls, who are well known for their excellent concerts, will also present vocal works and provide voice accompaniment for the Collective's "Brazilian Allelujah." In addition, the Collective will perform excerpts from their formal repertory.

The evening performances will feature full length works by the Collective and the students. Kimball will be represented by pieces set to music by Stephen Foster and "O Mistress Mine," by Gilbert M. Martin based on a Shakespeare sonnet.

Tickets for the evening concerts are $10, general admission, $8 for students and senior citizens. Call 548-9664 for further information.

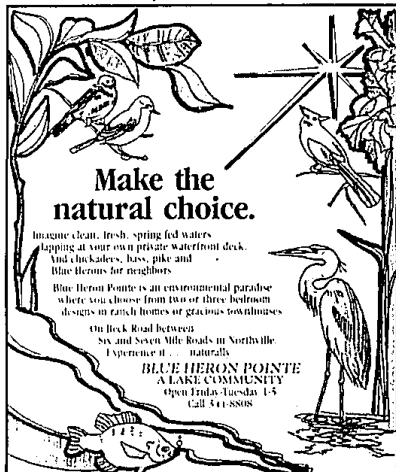

Men, if you're about to turn 18, it's time to register with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office. It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

Teaching about clay

A program, "Clay and Sculpture," for youths and adults is being offered through the Kensington Academy art extension program 3-5 p.m. Monday and Thursday, continuing through March 3.

The instructors are Sally Kaplan, instructor, sculpture department, Center for Creative Studies; and Darrell Mandell, who apprenticed with a Japanese Living National Treasure, kiln builder Katsuki Sakumai at Peters Valley Crafts School, N.J. Individual attention will be given to each student. For information, call Sally Kaplan, 647-8060.
