Gen. Taylor Will Speak At S'craft

Gen. Maxwell Taylor, former chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, will speak at Schoolcraft College next Thursday, Dec. 10, at 8 p.m. in the Waterman Campus Center.

Schoolcraft students are admitted free, other students will be charged $1, and the public will be charged $2 per ticket.

Gen. Taylor's appearance had originally been scheduled for September but had to be postponed until this month.

Now chairman of President Nixon's Foreign Relations Advisory Board, Taylor will present "Lessons from Vietnam."

Taylor served as a special advisor to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson. He is the author of "The Uncertain Trumpet" and is currently completing work on his memoirs which he expects to publish in early 1971.

It was the general's book which prompted President Kennedy to recall him to government service as an advisor, later naming him chairman of the JCS.

Since that time, either as an advisor at the White House, in uniform at the Pentagon, or as ambassador to South Vietnam, Taylor has been a major contributor to United States policy in Vietnam.

OU Arts Group Sets Cville Play

The Oakland Academy of Performing Arts from Oakland University will present the comedy, "Charley's Aunt," on Friday, Dec. 11, for Clarenceville junior and senior high school students.

This will mark the third appearance of the arts group at Clarenceville. Last year they presented "A Triple Bill" and the year prior to that "Death of a Salesman."

Cville Class Paper Drive

The Clarenceville High School junior class will hold a paper drive Dec. 11-13. A truck will be in the Board of Education parking lot, 28830 W. Eight Mile Road, Farmington, Friday evening, for pickup and also all day Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 12-13.
