TOM KRAMER

Paula Kramer did the choreography for "One More Time Around," as shown here, by the Detroit Dance Collective. The music is by George Gershwin.

Dance companies to share program

Detroit Dance Collective and the Carolyn Dorfman Dance Company of New Jersey will perform joint concerts at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, June 3, 4 at the Royal Oak Campus of Oakland Community College.

Both modern dance companies are well known for their richly diverse repertoires that range from fast-paced, highly complex pieces to starkly dramatic works. The groups will produce two separate programs featuring 15 dancers, colorful costumes and a wide variety of contemporary music.

The Collective will present four full ensemble works by its artistic directors, Barbara Selinger and Paula Kramer. Selinger's "Woodland" is set to a specially commissioned synthesizer score by film composer Joseph LoDuca and evokes animal images both real and imagined.

The Detroit premiere of "Requiem For A Star-Tamer," based on paintings by Wassily Kandinsky will also be presented. Kramer's "Travelers on the Same Road," choreographed to a dramatic score by George Gershwin, was inspired by images of the Holocaust and Picasso's monumental "Guernica."

Dorfman's contributions will include a new ensemble work, "Conversations" with original music by Michael Ray (a score funded in part by Meet the Composer Inc.). Her company will also perform "Lunaris," a sextet choreographed by Fred Mathews, and "Evol Teud," a romantic duet for Dorfman and Steven J. Myers, as well as "Lifeline," one of Dorfman's most dramatically visual pieces.

Dorfman is a native Detroit and graduate of University of Michigan.

A reception honoring Kathryn Gladney Ellis, outstanding dance advocate, as Detroit Dance Collective's Dance Honoree for 1988 reception will be held following the Friday, June 3 performance.

A free ticket to the reception will accompany ticket order. Tickets are $12 general admission, $10 students and senior citizens. Reservations are essential as space is limited. Call 548-9564 for information.
