Band concert at Gazebo

Band music emanating from the Gazebo will fill the lawn at the Farmington Historical Museum at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 5.

Again, for the third year, the Youth Band, directed by Fern Barber, will complete its year with a final concert open to the public.

The concert is free; all that is needed is for the spectators or listeners to bring their own chairs or blankets for seating on the lawn.

The Youth Band is available to students of the Farmington and neighboring school systems and is sponsored by the Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation Department.

Parking at the museum is limited but additional parking is available next door at the Christian Science Church, access from Wilson Ave. Additional parking is available just a short walk away at the Salem Church, Thayer-Rock Funeral Home and Farmington City Hall. If you use either of these lots, note the fine old homes that are passed as you walk to the museum.

The museum will be open to visitors during the regular hours of 1-5 p.m. The regular admission of a $1 donation will be in effect, with children under 12 free when accompanied by a parent.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

After a three-month pilot program in 28 branches, Michigan National Bank announced it will expand its consumer investment program through all 207 branches of the $8.5 billion institution's statewide system.

The move makes Farmington Hills-based Michigan National the first commercial in the United States to install a turnkey investment product delivery system following a pilot program, said Peter Thomsen, executive vice president-commerical, commercial and mortgage banking.

"With the PAMCO Securities and Insurance Services program, we were able to add to the product line offered at our branches and, in fact, were given the competitive edge, and now there is the opportunity to cross-sell and add new deposits to broaden our customer base," Thomsen said.

PAMCO sales representatives will offer investment products, including: Michigan tax exempt bond funds and investment funds, U.S. government funds, federal tax-free bond funds, tax exempt unit investment trusts, single premium whole life insurance, deferred and variable annuities, and a variety of retirement plans.

PAMCO is an independent registered broker/dealer. It manages sales forces in 50 institutions across 29 states in 1,000 institutional branches. The firm was purchased by Liberty Mutual Insurance Group of Boston in a move to provide new investment capital for PAMCO's next stage of development.
