Make Dolls For Vietnam Kids

By LOIS McALLISTER
About a month ago a mother from the area wrote to her son, a marine in Vietnam, to ask him what he'd like for Christmas.
He wrote back and said: "Mom, don't send me a thing. Get your friends and neighbors together and make some rag dolls and stuffed animals for the orphans over here who aren't going to have much of a Christmas or who don't know what Christmas is all about."
"My buddies and I want to give them something. Many of these kids can't remember ever having anything of their very own to love and hang onto, so please do this for all of us."

time creations can be made for a boy or girl in Vietnam.
My little girl is already busy making a pink and purple octopus out of rag yarn. The hand puppet on my right hand is an old one and is a good and easy idea too and doesn't need to be stuffed. It is helpful and therapeutic for taking out one's frustrations, etc.
The monkey is funny and fun to make out of an old work sock, red yarn and buttons. Grandma made this for our boys and it's old but still in one piece and greatly cherished. There are patterns for many of these things.

IF YOU DON'T feel like creating a doll or stuffed animal make a small pillow out of two flowered wash clothes. Put a fringe around it and stuff it with nylons or shredded foam—just so its washable.
There is no necessary deadline on these toys. Any child over there would like a toy of his own any day of the year.
Get your neighbors, friends, clubs, Scout troops together and begin. Be imaginative, sew on gay and happy faces. Have fun, have a meeting, party or coffee klatch and pass the hat for postage.

Put them in a box and mail them to:

member any family holiday or more.
The children will love these toys and if it doesn't restore their faith in humanity, at least it will give them something to hang onto for a while.
Our boys will thank you. Start sewing!

Troop Holds Investiture
Farmington Brownie Troop 53, which meets in Middle Belt School, recently held an investiture.
Invested were Annette Haines, Karen Scully, Rochelle Hurst, Susan Shay, Tara Strachan, Ellen Horvath, Amy Vandresser, Lorie Hartman, Susan Vargovick, Debbie Zmijewski, Christine Cramer, Leslie Cermak, Kathy Cardinal, Lori and Julie Gersabek. On Nov. 21, the troop took a trip to Old MacDonald's Farm.

Marine Serves
Marine Capt. Jerry Y. Seaman, son of Kenneth W. Seaman of 28129 Glendenin Court, Farmington, is serving with the Second Marine Aircraft Wing, now deployed to the Mediterranean.
Wagner Trains
Navy Seaman Recruit William H. Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wagner of 34070 Harlow, Farmington, has completed the Naval Submarine School at Groton, Conn.

THE AMERICAN B'DAY
"Traveler"
With enema nozzle attached to unit, the pressurized water system makes the "Traveler" the most convenient arrangement for enemas "old-fashioned" and obsolete "THE TRAVELER" will aid equality and health.
In your "mobile-home" every family member can be "shower-fresh-clean" all day long by using THE AMERICAN B'DAY TRAVELER. Toilet paper consumption is practically nothing... a factor worth considering for most "mobile-toilets." For permanent installation of the "Traveler," wall bracket can be used. Make sure unit is NOT HIGHER than jet spray nozzle.
