

People are the highlight of cable's year

Our 1988 year in review most importantly is about people. We would like to give a special holiday greeting to our most recent television grads.

Our media monthly workshops have been available since January, 1984. Classes consist of 15 persons per month. Upon certification, these folks enter into our television family. They will experience a myriad of opportunities from script writing, news reporting, acting as talent, producing, directing, or providing technical crew for such things as audio, camera, lights, floor direction, set design, technical direction, or the character generator.

Schobe takes Webb post

Nancy Schobe of Farmington Hills has joined the staff of The Webb Schools in Claremont, Calif., as assistant director of development.

Most recently, Schobe served as corporate director of marketing for Griswold's Claremont Center. Prior to that, she was a public relations representative for the Claremont Convention and Visitors Bureau, and special events coordinator for the Los Angeles County Music Center. She is a member of the Publicity Club of Los Angeles.

The Webb Schools comprise Webb School of California — a boarding/day, college-preparatory school for boys, grades 9-12; Vivian Webb School — a boarding/day, college-preparatory school for girls, grades 9-12; and the Raymond H. Alt Museum of Paleontology.

The 66-acre campus in Claremont is 39 miles east of downtown Los Angeles.
