Teacher stars in spring concert

will play Mendelssohn compositions.

Flutist Mciba Pahl will play a Bach Sonata in addition to being featured in the duo "Mirage" with Ellen Grafius, harpist.

Sonja Scholten, lyrical baritone, will sing ever-popular Gershwin selections, followed by a varied presentation by the Farmington Musicals Chorus.

Tickets will be $5, or $4 for students and seniors, available at the door. Proceeds will be contributed to the Musicals Scholarship Fund.

The money from FACW for the purchase came from its BUBS (Buckle Up Babies for Safety) project, which offers parents the opportunity to rent, rather than buy, infant and toddler car seats.

Funds from the rentals are disbursed to organizations or agencies, after a committee review of needs brought to the members' attention.

The majority of the rental profits were given for the play equipment.

Center gets equipment

Farmington Area Community Women gave a gift of money to buy play equipment for physically impaired youngsters who come to Alameda Early Childhood Center. With matching funds from the center, a new ball pit has been purchased.

The pit, which allows young children to float in a sea of light-weight balls, provides physical movement and sensory stimulation appropriate for all children.
