Swimmers ready for finale

Mike Hoenlein will compete in two individual events and the freestyle relay at the Class A finals. Senior Andy Jacobs is going in the IM, and Jim Kovach and Alan Afari round out the relay squad.

Shumate is entered in the 200 and 500 freestyles, Hoenlein the 200 freestyle and 100 backstroke. Shumate was 14th the 200 freestyle at 1:49 last year, and he has gone two seconds faster this year.

"I THINK HE can make top six in both of his events," CC coach Chuck McClure said, adding he estimates Shumate's best times place him among the top five in the 200 and top 10 in the 500.

"He didn't come down a lot (in the 500) at league, but he didn't have a race. He's the kind who has to have a race to do well, and I know he's going to have some races at state."

Hoenlein swam 1:48 at the state last year and has done that a couple times this year. It will take a better time at state, but McClure thinks Hoenlein could do it after he relaxes his workout pace and shaves down his weight.

"It took 1:45 to place last year, and it'll be the same this year," McClure said.

With an improved freestyle swim, Jacobs could break two minutes in the IM, McClure said. The relay team dropped four seconds off its time to beat Brother Rice in the Catholic League meet Sunday, and that just four hours after doing the prelims.

Farmington High will be represented by senior Scott Hawkins, the Western Lakes Activities Association champion in the 50 freestyle. He'll swim that event at state.

"The 50 is a quick race; anything can happen," Farmington coach Ross Bandy said. "You don't know who's going to be in it. A lot of kids who would be competitive in it, like Ron Orris (of Plymouth Salem), won't be."

"There will be a lot of good kids in there, and Scott is as good as anybody. With the way he's training, he looks better than he did in the league meet."

Salem's Orris contends for state championships

By Dan O'Meara
Staff writer

Ron Orris had his pick of events for the state championships in high school swimming this weekend.

The Plymouth Salem junior, who met the qualifying standard in every individual swimming event, has elected to enter the 200-yard freestyle and 100 butterfly. He also will compete in the freestyle relay.

The preliminaries are Friday and the finals Saturday in the Charles McCaffree Natatorium on the Michigan State University campus. The competition begins at 2 p.m. each day. Tickets are $3 Friday and $4 Saturday.

"He's rated pretty high in both (events), and those seemed appealing to him," Salem coach Chuck Olson said. "He went 52.1 in the butterfly early in the year, and we'll see how that stacks up. None of the events will be easy."

Orris, who set meet records in the individual medley and 500 freestyle while leading the Rocks to a second straight Western Lakes Activities Association title Friday, was fifth in the 100 freestyle (47.65) and sixth in the 100 freestyle (1:44.7) at last year's Class A meet.

ORRIS, WHO has the best Observerland times in seven of eight individual swimming events, has gone 1:42.73 in the 200 this year. His best in the 100 is 47.71.

Orris will be contending along with defending state champion Jim Hume of Ann Arbor Pioneer, Mark Loveland of Ann Arbor Huron and Dave Klavitar of East Lansing in the butterfly.

"He's going up there with the idea of swimming well," he added, "and, if he swims well, he's got a chance."

Orris won't be alone. In fact, the Rocks will be well represented. Both relays have qualified and so have seniors Mike Hill and Fred Seidelman in individual events. Plymouth Canton will send Jeff Homan, Bryce Anderson and its medley relay team to state.

He'll qualified in the 100 and 200 freestyles but will swim just the 100 since Olson plans to use him in both relays. In addition to the 50 freestyle, Seidelman will go in two relays, also.
