The following is part of the reply I gave in recently filling a war is better than having an enemy invade in gout the Selective Service Form 150 for conscientious objectors. I make the point that the reason I refuse to fight in wars is because of my Christian beliefs. I hope it will be helpful to those thinking about their own Christian position in relation to wars and an aid those whose who may be thinking about being a conscientious objector:

air we breathe, of the tree that grow, of the brother with a transfer what a war is better than that grow, of the brother with that grow, of the brother with stands beside me, bids us a firm in saght. If I put poison gas in the firm has paining and knifing the ver and knift in the my brother with that grow, of the brother with the grow, of the brother with that grow, of the brother with the plant is and with the reason I refuse to grow, of the brother with the grow, of the brother with the grow, of the brother with the respondent ones that the reason I refuse to grow, of the brother with the grow, of the brother with the reply the point in said that that grow, of the brother with the grow, of the brother with the respondent with the proposition in the point and the point in said that that grow, of the brother with the respondent with the reply the proposition in the that grow, of the brother with the reply the proposition in the that grow, one's can the with the reply the proposition in the that grow, of the brother those who may be thinking a doing the wrong. I refuse formatists, physiotolic Christians, Christian and Missionary, Alliannet, Evangelical Covenant, and Schwenkfelder, one each. The Brethren in Christ Church regained its only member in recent years. J. Edward Roush (D-Ind.) was returned to the House after last serving in the 90th Congress.

ANALYSIS OF THE figures in Christianity Today's survey shows several states have a heavily Catholic report of the street and of wars. Thus, I see was survey shows several states have a heavily Catholic report of resentation in Congress.

WARS HAVE BEEN WARS HAVE BEEN WASSAChusetts has 11 of 14, New Jersey has 10 of 17, and thode Island, three of four. In Nebraska, four of five are Presbyterians, and in Utah-only state where all Utah-only state where all Charlon of the state of the state of the work of the state of the state of the state of the work of the state of the state of the state of the state of the work of the state of th gives me hope; there is a speck of a chance that man may one day live at peace. It is worth working for.

If I put poison gas in the air, napalm upon our trees and a knife into my brother's heart, I am poisoning, napalming and knifing the very life God has given me. By such acts, God Himself dies as He loses His life within us.

He dies because we have as He loses His life within us. He dies because we have treated lightly a sacred uni-verse, and have thought for the instant that it takes to pull a trigger that a life really doesn't make that much difference.

JESUS CHRIST has given an appeal to men which has affected me deeply. He has said that God's rule is here and now. It is not so much a stern rule as a rule which pleads for us to be greater than we have ever before than we have ever before conceived ourselves as conceived ourselves as being.

We are to be peacemakers; we are to be meet; we are to be lowing to our enemies and friends of any poor man. Jesus gave his very life for these dieals.
Early Christians died for these principles rather than retailate with violence. The blood of this fallowers has sown seeds for the spirit of man which no armament could ever surpress.

THEREFORE. my posi-

THEREFORE, my nosi-THEREPORE, my position as a conscientious objector is the result of a Wellbought-out approach to the international situation. Myposition is runtermore the result of deep religious beliefs in God, in Jeans Christ, and in the value of human life. Because of these bellefs
I am, a conscientious objector. It is my firmly held conviction that I could not in conscience participate in war tor. It is my firmly held sworth working for.

For God has given us a conviction that I could not in mind to use in order to varry must but WHAT of the practic out his will. This God of the in any form.

Religion Update

In the example of William of their ideals against the Penn, most Christian pactifists have been charitable saved thousands of livestands those who disagree with them.

The same loterance which made Colonial Pennsylvania the New World's keystone of religious liberty is seen in a modern pacifist group, the Seventh Day Adventists.

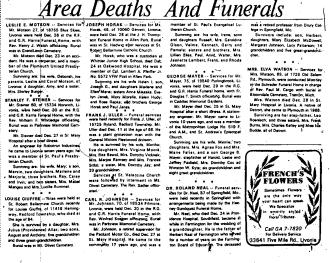

Instead of demonstrating or attempting to sabotate the U.S. military system, the Adventists train their young men to make the best of a Summer camp codet program to train its young hen to be combat medics:
