

French Open next stop for Cunningham

By Brad Emmons
Staff Writer

Carrie Cunningham will be able to practice her French as well as her tennis when she travels next month to Paris.

The 17-year-old junior at Churchill High School will play in the main draw of the prestigious French Open, a Grand Slam tournament which begins May 29 at the famed Roland Garros Tennis Stadium.

Cunningham, coming off a semifinal performance at the Virginia Slims of Houston (her best showing in a major event), has boosted her world ranking.

Still classified as an amateur, Cunningham entered the pro play court tourney (field of 32) ranked No. 121 in the world.

She is expected to move into the top 100 after pulling off victories over No. 11 Katarina Maleeva of Bolivia (4-6, 7-5, 6-2), Hu Na of China (2-6, 6-2, 6-4) and Kim Kessaris (7-6, 6-1) before facing 15-year-old whit Monica Sele, the eventual champion (6-0, 6-1).

On Friday, Cunningham celebrated her 17th birthday by defeating Kessaris in the quarterfinals.

"The people from Virginia Slims brought out a cake and the crowd sang happy birthday," Cunningham said. "And my coach (Joe Foltz) took me out to a movie. It was nothing really special, but I'd have to say it was a very good day."

JUST AS SOON as she turned 17, Cunningham may have felt more like 70 after Sele, a native of Yugoslavia and a disciple of Bradenton, Fla., tennis guru Nick Bollettieri, polished her off in less than an hour.

"I was not prepared mentally," said Cunningham, who met Sele a few years back in a junior tournament. "I was to a point where I played like I didn't belong in a semifinals. I played like I wasn't ready for that."

Cunningham said she wasn't shocked when Sele knocked off Chris Evert in Sunday's finals (3-6, 6-1, 6-4).

"I wasn't surprised at all," said Carrie. "She (Sele) is definitely going to be a very good player. She's a great player now."

"She's very aggressive and she never lets up. She's tough now and she was tough then (in the juniors), too."

But despite the thrashing administered by the up-and-coming Sele, Cunningham is anxiously awaiting her trip to Europe, which also includes a stop at Wimbledon, another Grand Slam event.

"I really like it (Paris) because it's like our U.S. Open, only a smaller version," she said. "It's a big complex with a lot of avid tennis fans."

"It's JUST A whole different world. The food is really something and their transportation... they have cars that will take you wherever you want."

Cunningham is scheduled to fly out on May 26 and will be part of the U.S. Junior National Team contingent. She will also compete in the French Junior Open as well as the main draw.

Cunningham will also be joined by her coach the first week and by family members during the two-week event.

"I won't be making any major changes in my game, just a lot of physical training such as running before I leave," said Cunningham.

The Livonian, forced to turn down $11,250 in prize money for reaching the semifinals because of her amateur status, says she is sticking to her plans about continuing her education. Despite her recent success in Houston, Cunningham's desire to play for a major university has not wavered.

"I've gotten letters, but I haven't talked to any school yet," said the Churchill honor student. "I do want to play in college."

In the meantime, Cunningham is still catching up on her studies at Churchill. She missed all of last week.

"I'm really behind," she laments.

But Cunningham has been brushing up on speaking French.

"This is the third year I've taken courses," she said. "It's hard. I can see where they (the French people) get impatient when we don't know the language. But I'm going to try to use it again."

YMCA has 5-mile race

For the second straight year, the Farmington YMCA's Invest in Youth 5-mile race will be part of a nationwide series of runs sponsored by Ben Gay.

Fifty runs will be held across the U.S. on the weekend of May 13-14. The Farmington run will be on Saturday at 9 a.m.

The entry fee is $5 through May 5 and $10 after. The 5-mile will begin at 9:15, with a 1-mile run and walk to start at 9. The shorter race costs $2, or $5 after the early entry deadline.

There were 212 runners last year in the Invest in Youth run. Y spokeswoman Mary Fletcher is hoping for between 250 and 300 this year.

Entry fees for the runs, which will start and finish at Denison's restaurant at 12 Mile and Orchard Lake roads, include raffle prizes of two round-trip tickets on Southwest Airlines, running shoes, logs and waterfalls, post-race refreshments and a T-shirt.

For information, call 555-4020.

Ben Gay officials hope to attract 50,000 runners for the weekend of runs.
