Where to store it

ing canceled checks and other papers related to medical bills, charitable contributions, rental expenses, alimony payments or business expenses — should be maintained for at least three to six years. In addition, keep careful records of where you deposit and how you spend loan proceeds since this information determines the tax treatment of the interest you pay.

For insurance purposes you should maintain accident reports, policy statements, an inventory of assets and receipts for any major purchases. To document your investments, you will need proof of your initial cost, receipts for brokerage or mutual fund transactions, dividend or interest statements and any other papers that can substantiate a capital gain or loss. Necessary homeowner records include your deed, insurance policies, receipts or cancelled checks for home improvements and possibly rental records if you rent your property for more than 14 days a year.

Where and how you store your files is almost as important as what files you save. First of all, store your files in one specific location. Your best bet is a file cabinet or, at least, an alphabetized accordion file folder kept in a desk drawer. Make sure the file is conveniently located. If the file cabinet is located in the basement behind the boxes of Christmas decorations and vacation souvenirs, you will probably be less inclined to keep your records up to date. Separate your receipts in a way that is meaningful to you. Whatever method you choose, make sure that you clearly label all folders.

Please submit black-and-white photographs, if possible, for inclusion in the business people column. While we value the receipt of photographs, we are unable to use every photograph submitted. If you want your photograph returned, please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Indicate in a margin on the front of the photograph that you want it returned. We will do our best to comply with your request. Send information to: Business Editor, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please include city of residence and a daytime telephone number where information can be verified.

Kast will give you more than just cool air.

We'll give you $350 cool cash.

If you invest in a LENNOX HS19 central air conditioner and a LENNOX Pulse furnace now, Kast will give you a $350 rebate directly from Lennox through June 30th.

The HS 19 is one of the most efficient air conditioners on the market with one of the highest seasonal energy efficiency ratios you can have (SEER up to 12).

The Pulse furnace is also one of the most energy efficient products available.

With both units you:

- Can save up to 45% on your utility bills
- Get a ten-year limited warranty on the compressor (A/C) and lifetime limited warranty on the heat exchanger (furnace)
- Get a two year warranty on parts and labor from Kast

And you get a rebate check for $350.

For 52 years Kast has mounted quality products, quality installation, and quality service. That's why we were named contractor of the year by Contracting Business Magazine. Call us and see why.
