Homemaker Holiday Set

Homemakers Holiday, the segment of the Western Wayne County YWCA program offered in Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, Livonia, is accepting winter class registrations Wednesday, Jan. 13, from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Five subjects are being offered, and the membership must be filled in the Jan. 13 registration or they will be canceled.

Planned for the winter term are:

- Rhythmic Exercise — taught by Mrs. Gail Wood and offered those interested in a slimmer figure for spring styles.
- Painting for Beginners — a combination of instruction, demonstration and lecture for would-be dabblers. The instructor is Marie Kureiko.
- Home Crafts — taught by Mrs. Judith Scuto and featuring the making of wall hangings, centerpieces and figurines and other home decorations.
- Needlecraft — including knitting, crocheting, crewel work and macramé.
- Polpoturi — a course for women interested in getting a smattering of several subjects and including sessions on makeup, hair and wigs, clothes, Yoga and entertaining.

A nursery is provided, where mothers may leave youngsters 2½ to six for a small charge.

Registration information may be obtained by calling the YWCA of Western Wayne County, LO 1-4110. The church is located at 9601 Hubbard.

MRS. WILLIAM JOSEPH HALL II (Barbara Jean Ross)

Couple Plans Own Nuptial Ceremony

Barbara Jean Ross and William Joseph Hall II planned the double-ring ceremony that united them in marriage Sunday afternoon, Dec. 20, in the First United Church of Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow O. Ross of Plymouth. Dr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Hall of Muskegon are parents of the bridegroom.

Dr. Hall joined the Rev. Paul Cargo in performing the ceremony, and the bride's father gave her in marriage. Mrs. Suzanne Potter of Ferndale, Calif., was soloist and also served as bridesmaid.

WOODROW HALL JR. of South Bend, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Tom Webber of Northville, William Doll of Ludington, Bruce Doll of Chicago and Larry Van Riper of Muskegon.

The bride's mother wore a green satin A-line gown with sequin trim, and Mrs. Hall wore a gold sheath with bell sleeves.

Following a church hall reception for 500 guests, the couple left for a west coast honeymoon.

They are returning to Olivet College, where the new Mrs. Hall is a sophomore and her husband a junior.

Classes Start For Parents

The winter term of expectant parent classes sponsored by the Oakland County Health Department will begin on Wednesday, Jan. 13, in the Oakland County Health Department's south office, 2725 Greenfield, Southfield.

Four class sessions will be offered Jan. 13 to March 3, Jan. 14 to March 4, Jan. 15 to March 5 and Jan. 19 to March 9.

All couples planning to enroll in classes must pre-register and may do so by telephoning 358-1400, extension 232, Southfield.

Group Therapy Clinic Is Planned

The Michigan Society for Group Psychotherapy will hold its first 1971 clinic meeting, entitled "An Evening with Mollie," at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 12, in the Grand River at Eight Mile, Farmington.

Mrs. Mary Keck Black will lead the session which is subtitled "An Exploration in Awareness."

Registration will be at the ballroom door. The admittance fees are geared to member and student status. Any professional or student interested in group psychotherapy is invited.

The Michigan Society for Group Psychotherapy is a multi-disciplinary association of professionals interested in advancing the field of group psychotherapy, fostering education and research and providing practitioners with a forum for exchanging ideas and experiences.

Mrs. Black is associated with American Behavioral Sciences and has been active in the Detroit area for three years, leading youth, administrative, executive, family and other groups. She promises to introduce to the group some recently developed awareness techniques.

For registration information, contact Louis Maceroni, 12561 Promenade, Detroit.
