

Mantle club blisters foes

South Farmington may have stumbled when it traveled to Wisconsin for a national tournament recently, but no such thing has happened in the Little Caesars Mickey Mantle League.

Coach Lou Pirronello's ballclub eked out four more victories after returning from its latest tour, to run its league record to 14-6. South, 13-3 overall, is one of two undefeated teams, Taylor being the other.

Farmington knocked off Westland II 10-5 Tuesday, ripped Livonia Stevenson 11-5 in a makeup game Monday, swept a double-header from Lincoln Park Tuesday 18-1 and 9-1 on Saturday, and crushed Livonia Franklin 13-3 on Thursday.

In Tuesday's win over Westland II, Eric Miller kept his earned run average perfect by tossing a two-hitter. Miller, 4-0, walked six and struck out six, but did not give up a earned run. He has yet to do so this season.

Jay Burley got three of South's eight hits, scored three runs and drove in one, and stole three bases—including home plate with two out in the fourth, tying the game at 4-4.

Young leads soaring South

Kevin Young clubbed a grand slam and hit safely in all four trips to the plate Monday, leading South Farmington to a 14-0 Connie Mack win over Redford Union.

The game was called after 4 1/2 innings because of the mercy rule.

Chris Schmid, who pitched four innings, and Rich Roy combined on a no-hitter.

Lee Deyne had two hits and three RBI for South, which tied a season-high with 15 hits. Deyne drove in seven runs in four hits.

South scored six runs in the second inning, and Young's 350-foot shot highlighted the flurry and gave the team a 4-0 lead.

South scored 39 runs in its first 10 games but has scored 35 in its last three in raising its season record to 8-5.
