TRASH MONSTER — Visitors Anthony Thomas (left of Akron, Ohio, and Joel Bower, Chelsea, feed the "Monstroso horribilis" of the Michigan State University Museum. The trash monster, "excavated" during a dig at local dumps, is seven feet tall and weighs 300 pounds. It was built of 500 cans, bottles, plastic containers, a shopping cart, blinking lights and other assorted trash. The museum notes: "Monstroso horribilis. Range: Thrives in areas inhabited by man. Growth rate: Governed by our carelessness. This monster is dangerous and must be exterminated."

GM Looks For Big Auto Year

LIVONIA

General Motors is looking forward to 1971 as potentially one of the best years the automobile industry has ever known, said F. Harger Green, manager of the Fisher Body plant, 28400 Plymouth Rd., Livonia.

Green said the 'GM estimate for 1971 assumes a continued improvement in the economy, progressing as the year goes on, and no major interruption of vehicle production.

He was joined in the outlook and year-end review statement by Walter O. Muller, Chevrolet plant manager, 13900 Eddies Rd., Livonia, and Dick T. French, GM Parts Division manager, 36667 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

They noted that the drop in automobile industry sales can be attributed principally to the success the government has achieved in cooling off the economy and the 10-week UAW strike against General Motors.

As a result of these factors, payrolls for GM employees in Livonia in 1970 were $54.5 million while in 1969 they were $72.2 million. Area employees lost an estimated $11 million in wages during the strike.

AAA Moves Into House Insurance

Automobile Club of Michigan is offering its area members insurance on their homes beginning for the first time.

"A survey shows 75 per cent of our members are homeowners," said Norman LeBlanc, Livonia office manager.

Group Insurance Co. of Michigan, a new arm of Auto Club's Insurance Exchange, will offer members the new service to protect homes, personal property from fire, theft, vandalism, other perils. Both homeowners, apartment tenants and condominium dwellers will be covered.

"Triple-A's Homeowners insurance will offer several unusual features," LeBlanc said. "They include credit card coverage against theft up to $1,000; liability protection on outboard motors up to 50 horsepower; and annual automatic recommendations of up-dated coverage to guarantee that members are adequately covered."

Auto Club began offering low-cost term life insurance in 1970, and will soon offer boat insurance to complement existing coverages of snowmobiles, camping and all-terrain vehicles.
