

Sentinel of style

Mounted lanterns underscore the design concept of Palazzolo Brother's traditional colonial, "Bayview," which also features creative uses of brick on the house as well as in the surrounding walkways and front door entrance.

Colonial-style lighting to illuminate roadways

A custom-designed colonial-style lighting system that illuminates roadways will be featured at this year's Homearama. The roadway lighting system, the first of its kind to be installed by a subdivision developer, will provide security lighting for homes in the Hills of Oakland subdivision.

"Many communities do not provide streetlighting to subdivisions," according to Roy A. Maly, builder development specialist for Detroit

Edison. "Maceri Development wanted to enhance the safety and value of the homes by installing colonial-style 100-watt high-pressure sodium fixtures. Our Detroit Edison lighting experts helped design the system."

Discount coupons, good for $1 of the admission price to Homearama Monday through Friday, will be mailed to Detroit Edison customers with their August statements. The coupons also will be available at Detroit Edison customer officers prior to and during Homearama.
