

Auditions announced

• Warren Symphony, the Michigan Orchestra, will hold auditions for positions for the coming concert season. Openings are section oboe, trumpet and cello. Other instruments will be considered on a substitute basis.

For applications, call Warren Symphony office, 764-2950.

• The Rackham Symphony Choir is holding auditions on Tuesday evenings, Sept. 19 and 20 at the Emma Schaver Building (Wayne State University's music building), Cass and Forest, Detroit.

Interested sopranos, altos, tenors and basses should call 822-4385 for an audition appointment.

• Detroit Dance Collective is holding auditions 6-8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 14, in Room 208 at the Royal Oak campus of Oakland Community College. Paid contracts are available for men and women for a 26-week season; apprentice positions are available.

For information, call 548-9664.

• Michigan Ballet Theatre will hold auditions for male and female dancers at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 1 at Kreson-Okar Dance Academy, 1160 Welch Road, Walled Lake. Female dancers should bring ballet and pointe shoes. The season will include full-length performances of the "Nutcracker" with the Birmingham-Bloomfield Symphony Orchestra. For information, call 624-5590 or 669-9444.

• Fairland Youth Chamber Music Guild has openings for qualified violin, viola and cello players, ages 8-13. Groups meet each Monday evening during the school year at First United Methodist Church, 1589 W. Maple, Birmingham. Two formal performances are given each season. The Guild was a featured group in the 1989 Machinae Island Chamber Music Festival.

For information, call Richard Pippo, music director, 345-7731 or Linda Charboneau, 333-3488.

Barn photos wanted

The Rochester Hills Museum at Van Hoesen Farm is seeking photos of barns and farm scenes to complement the upcoming photo exhibit, "The Michigan Farm and Farm Buildings," created by Hemalata C. Dandekar, University of Michigan.

The exhibit will be from Nov. 1-25. Photographs should be at least 8 by 10 inches, black and white or color, framed and/or matted. This exhibit will not be judged. For information, call the Museum, 656-4663.

Piano recital planned

Classical pianists Barbara Carbery and Barbara Robinson will give a recital of solo and duet pieces at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Universalist Unitarian Church of Farmington, 25301 Hatsted, Farmington Hills.

It is part of the Concert in the Hills series and upcoming programs will feature the Cassini Ensemble, the Langford Singers and folk and blue grass artist, Neil Woodward.

Carbery is a Mount Clemens resident and has a bachelor's in music from Wayne State where she studied with Mischa Kotler. She performs throughout the metropolitan area as soloist and accompanist. She also developed a piano program for the Warren Consolidated Schools. She has worked with Phil Marcus Esser on several productions including the upcoming "Somerset Street #11."

Robinson has a bachelor's in music theory and composition from Michigan State University and a master's from Stephen F. Austin University, Nacogdoches, Texas. She is director of music at St. Michael's Catholic Church of Sterling Heights and a freelance musician. She received a Michigan Council for the Arts grant last year to compose and arrange the music for a liturgical dance project.

Tickets, $7 and $5, are available at the door. For information, call the church office, 478-7272.
