100 Artisans show their work

About 100 artisans from across the state will show off their finest works at The Community Center Farmington-Farmington Hills 17th annual Arts and Crafts Show.

Show hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 7 in H Building, Orchard Ridge Campus, Oakland Community College.

The juried arts and crafts show is one of the mainstay fundraisers for The Community Center, an independent, non-profit organization.

The show moved last year to the college because it had outgrown the center's facility.

"When we moved to O.C.C., the number of artists and patrons to the show greatly increased," said Rachel Shuler, co-chairwoman of the show that is arranged by the center's Volunteer Guild. "Based on our past success and the caliber of artists the committee of jurors has selected, we expect this year's show to be the biggest and best ever."

"The show will have a good mix of returning favorite and new artisans," said Charlotte Fortier, co-chairwoman of the show. "The committee chose the entrants very carefully to maintain the show's diversity."

Returning favorite items will include a wide assortment of jewelry made from materials such as wood and ceramic, colorful quilting and handsome woodworking such as children's furniture and home accessories.

New this year, an expanded selection of holiday pieces for Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas will be available. Paintings have also been added to the show's collection of works.

The admission charge will be $1 per person and parking will be free. Light refreshments will be sold at the show.

Bullshot Crummond spoofs B movies

The Smith Theatre on the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College presents the zany comedy, "Bullshot Crummond" by Diz White. The play is a spoof on the adventures of flying ace Bulldog Drummond, produced in the style of a 1930s Grade "B" detective movie.

Teutonic villain Otto von Bruno and his evil mistress, Lenya, crash their airplane in the English countryside and kidnap aging Professor Fenton, who has discovered a formula for manufacturing synthetic diamonds. Captain Hugh "Bullshot" Crummond becomes suspicious.

"You'll laugh at its ineffable silliness," the New York Times said. "Upstairs," according to International Herald Tribune.

Master storyteller stars in festival

Tommy Scott Young, best known for his animated renditions of the Brer Rabbit tales, is one of the star performers at Storytelling '89, a day of telling tales that runs from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 14, in MacKenzie Fine Arts Building, Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn.

Stone Soup, which blends storytelling with music, and Gwendolyn Ledbetter who tells stories from the eastern shores, share the bill with master storyteller Young. Workshops, story swapping and Storytellers in Concert are all on the agenda.

Registrations can be made for all day or half days or evening only. The event is sponsored by Detroit Story League. Inquiries are taken by Amy Jackson, 934-8635.
