FEDERATED GARDEN CLUBS

Vi Dow and Florence Smith, members of the North Farmington Garden Club, show the grapevine baskets they've covered with artemisia, which will be used for table centerpieces when Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan meet Oct. 26. Club members will serve as hostesses for the meeting.

Dental sheds old look for new

Drakeshire Dental Center of Farmington was featured in the lead story and on the cover of Patterson Today Magazine's fall/winter edition. Drakeshire Dental Center was selected because of a recent expansion and use of modern design and equipment.

The article showed before and after photographs and floor plans. Shown on the cover were Doctors Stuart Perneck and Morris Rubin, the original partners.

The expansion has allowed the addition of a new partner, Dr. Karson Carpenter.

Drakeshire Dental Center, which has been in the Drakeshire Shopping Plaza at 35223 Grand River since 1972, added on an additional 1,050 square feet and changed from a traditional dental office design to a new open concept.

Drakeshire Dental Center has also recently added the services of a specialist in treating gum diseases. Dr. Paul VanNaghest, periodontist, a graduate of University of Michigan, adds to the full service dental care available at Drakeshire Dental Center.
