Rocks keep eye on foes

Plymouth Salem shouldn't have much to worry about, judging from the results of its wrestling tournament Salorday. But the Rocks, who were runaway winners In the Salem Inviational, are looking over their shoulder in anticipation of what lies ahead for them.

them. Solem finished with a 74%-point advantage over runner-up Belleville in the 18-team tourna-ment. Novi (117%) and Westland John Gienn (108%) had substantial point totals bott still wound up far behind in third and fourth places, respec-

North Farmington was 12th, Gar den City 14th, Farmington 16th, Wayne Memorial 17th and Livonia Stevenson 18th. Despite its impressive victory, Salem can't take future events for granted. The Rocks will meet Belleville In the team tournaments in February and tangle with Gleon in the Western Lakes Activities Association meet later this month.

fittes Association meet later this month. "WE WANTED to do well against Belleville, because we're going to face off with them in the first round of the team district." Salem coach Ron Kreeger said. "Belleville is going to be a tough team to get by. "The same with John Glenn in the league. That's going to be a real tough dual meet, so well have our hands full thes, and both are going to be more future." he added. "They could be emensizes, and we have to work hard to make surce they're not." Glenn coach Tom Buckalew, whose team was "runner-up to Salem in the WLAA last year, said Krueger is taking the logical and responsible ap-proach in keeping the Rocks focused. "There's some merit to what he's saying." Buckalew said. "They beat us by almost 90 points in the tournament, but a lot can happen in a 1-0n-1 match. If we win one we shouldn', it's a 12-point "wing."

the odds-on favorite. He has some kids we shouldn't be able to catch. But they have to be ready, and he understands that."

SALEM HAD three individual champions (Juli-an Sell, Sieve Burlison and Brian Burlison) and one runner-up (Dan Bonnett) in its teurnament. Glenn had one champion (Krait Kubah) and two runners-up (Karl Pace and Garnett Woody). Pigmouth Canton had one winner (Liam Rentz) and North Farmington one runner-up (Adam Cook).

Sell was the No. 1 seed at 130 pounds and de-feated Riverview rival Tim Phillips 11-0 in the final. The two met last year in the finals of the Riverview tournament, with Sell winning by pin.

"He wrestled what we call the four-period match," Krueger said. "I told Julian to get out there and get tough. He pinned him in the fourth period."

Sell is 13-3, with all three losses to Temper-ance-Bedford's Mick Buchanan, who was third in ance-Bedford's Mick Buchanan, who was third in the Class A tournament. "Sell doesn't get his just desserts, because he's lost three times," Krurger said. "But he lost to a kid who placed in the state. None of our kids have beaten anybody who finished that high. hopefully, we're going to overcome that loss, loo." Steve Burlison (13-0) had three pins — the first in 41 seconds and the next two in just over a min-ute — before defeating Novi's Jeff O'Neil 3-1 in the 160 final.

"STEVE DIDN'T make any mistakes," Krueger sald. "He wrestled tough; he wrestled hard." Brian Burlison (15-6) won the 189 tith; defeat-ing Gienis Woody on an 11-5 decision, but the anticipated match-up between Portage Norther err's Derrike Green, the winner at that weight he last two years, and Burlison, who wrestled 171 last year, didn't materiality and ling hold on Ann Arbor Pioneer's Steve Fodale in the quar-terfinals and injuring the opponent. Fodale could't continue and that sent Woody Into the fi-nal by way of an injury default.

"But our boy was there to wrestle in the final, so I'm not going to blame my boy," Krueger sald. "It was a little controversial, because everybody wanted to see that match. It wasn't Burlison's fault the kid didn't get there."

Kuban defeated two-time state qualifier Mike Braswell of Belleville in the 171 final, taking a 5-4 decision. The victory improved Kuban's record to 18-1, with 16 of the wins coming by pln. He bas one technical fall and one decision.

In the semifinals, Kuban whipped highly-re-garded Dino Papadopolous of Ypsilanti, needing only two minutes, 15 seconds to seore a technical fall.

"KUBAN BEAT a very good wrestler in win-ning. In fact, he beat two very good wrestlers," Buckalew said. "(Papadopolous) was the No. 2 seed and supposedly a pretty outstanding wres-tler, and he couldn't stay with Kraig. It didn't last worknow!" very long.

In addition to Woody, Parce was second at 125. He reached the final by bealing Ken Stopa 8-7 for his first win over the Salern Irival. Parce (17-3) lost a 13-8 decision to Mount Clemens' Clarence Weaver in the final. It was his second loss to Weaver but an improvement over the first, which ended with a pin. "I was very pleased with my kids," Buckalew said. "We hand't wrestled in two weeks and had only four mandatory practices (during the heli-days).

only four mandatory practices (during the heli-days). "We have some people who are starting to come along. I'm pleased with the work thie our kids have. And, if the season is long enough, we should be a pretty good team. Woody's record is 17-5 and 140-pound Cory Buckalew 13-5. Salem's Stopa is 15-3 and 171-pound Pete Israel 12-7. Tentz captured the 140 championship with a third-period pin (443) against Portage Central's Alam Kaufman. It was the Canton wrestler's third pin in four matches Saturday. North's Cook won three straight decisions before losing 2-0 to Dar-ren Donathan of Riverview in the 152 final.
