'Chair-ity' event helps Neighborhood House

A new store in downtown Farmington is hosting a "chair-ity" event that will knock you off your rocker.
At 1 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 8, Chairs Unlimited will have what has been billed as "one of the world's most unique musical chair games" — a variation of the familiar childhood game where no two chairs will be alike.

Proceeds from the event will be given to Neighborhood House, a branch of the Salvation Army, for a special wheelchair fund.

Chairs Unlimited owner George Martin will select the diverse games chairs from the store's more than 200 different styles. All are currently on display at the store. The winner will be sitting pretty when awarded a set of four chairs of his/her choice from those used in the game. Game chairs will be marked one week prior to the event.

THE GAME is part of the store's grand opening festivities. Chairs Unlimited is at 33405 Grand River Avenue.

Entry fee is a $5 minimum donation to Neighborhood House (checks only, made out to Neighborhood House). Participants must register at Chairs Unlimited by 5 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 6. For more information, call 476-5000.

Neighborhood House is a branch of the Salvation Army that assists Farmington and Farmington Hills residents with basic needs such as clothes, shelter, food and medical assistance.
