Tom Monaghan talks on entrepreneurship

Tom Monaghan, founder and chairman of the board for Domino's Pizza, Inc., will speak at Madonna College at 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 19, in Kresge Hall. Monaghan's address will focus on "Enterpreneurship." It is open to the public, free of charge. Monaghan will elaborate on his founding of Legatus, a non-profit or ganization of practicing Roman Catholics who are heads of companies, organizations, professional firms and institutions. Legatus members promote ethics in business in conformity with the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church.

Monaghan started his pizza empire in 1960 at the age of 23 and has since pioneered several pizza delivery innovations that have set the standard for the Industry. An honorary doctorate degree recipient from Madonna College, Monaghan was also named the 1984 Harvard Business School of Detroit Entrepreneur of the Year. The Detroit Tigers owner serves on the hoard of directors for several institutions and lends his support to a variety of philanthropic interests.

Monaghan's appearance is made passible through the Madonna College Michael F. McManus Distinguished Business Lecture Series.

McManus Jr., the founder of Header

Products, Inc. in Romulus, established the lecture series in his father's memory and to acknowledge his father's entrepreneurial success.
