

FAMILY FARE

Sit back and enjoy your time in Disney Channel's land of rhyme

By Donna Gooch
Mother Goose as a rock and roller? As improbable as it may seem, Mother Goose, as well as a host of other fairy tale characters, really party down in a delightful new Disney Channel musical film, premiering Saturday, May 19.

The fun-filled fantasy, inspired by favorite Mother Goose rhymes, boasts a star-studded cast culled from the music, television and motion picture industries.

Mother Goose Rock 'N' Rhyme stars Shelley Duvall as Little Bo Peep who reluctantly teams up with Gordon Goose (Dan Gilroy) when his mother (Jean Stapleton), the founder of Rhymeland, mysteriously disappears.

They question Itsy Bitsy Spider (Ben Vereen), Old King Cole (Little Richard), Jack and Jill (Garry Shandling and Teri Garr), Peter Piper (Harry Anderson), Simple Simon (Paul Simon), Humpty Dumpty (Howie Mandel) and Mary (Cyndi Lauper) and her not-so-little lamb (Woody Harrelson).

Debbie Harry plays the old woman who lives in a shoe, ZZ Top portrays the three men in a tub, Pia Zadora is Little Miss Muffet and Bobby Brown plays all three blind mice, only they're color blind in this version.

Many other entertainers, ranging from Art Garfunkel to Elayne Boosler, lend their talents to the classic characters.

"Even though I finished filming months ago, I still find myself quoting lines from the show," says Duvall, who also served as executive producer. "Mother Goose Rock 'N' Rhyme is a wacky tour through Rhymeland, a celebration of individuality for all ages to enjoy. Everyone who worked on it gave their best performance—from the writers, artists and designers to the director, stars and crew—and the results are amazing. It was a truly weird, wonderful experience."
