How kids cope with tragedy

William Steele, noted authority on helping children cope with tragedy, will be featured in a two-evening workshop entitled "Trauma and Loss in Children," sponsored by the Oakland University Continuum Center.

Steele will examine how children deal with devastating disruptions in their lives such as death, violence and separation. His presentation is geared toward counselors, educators, administrators, social workers and psychologists.

He will include seven steps to help children through the grieving process.

The workshop will be from 7-10 p.m. on Thursdays, Oct. 11 and 18 at OU. The fee is $79, with preregistration requested.

Additional information is available at 370-3033.

GOP group to hear Taylor

Cliff Taylor, who is running as John Engler's attorney general candidate, will speak to a meeting of the Oakland County Young Republicans at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 8.

The general membership meeting is at the Clarion Hotel, Orchard Lake and 12 Mile roads in Farmington Hills.

Taylor is running against Democrat Frank Kelly, Michigan's current attorney general.

The public is invited to a 7 p.m. social prior to the meeting.

County park hosts crafts

Hand-made crafts from more than 150 artisans will be displayed this weekend during the Country Folk Art Show at Springfield Oaks Activities Center in Davisburg, an Oakland County park.

Among the items on display and for sale will be Appalachian-style baskets, Shaker furniture, quilts, calligraphy, decoys, country clocks and wood carvings.

Show hours are from 5-9 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The show is supported by the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission. Additional information is available at 634-4151 or 625-8133.

The Springfield Oaks activities Center is on Andersonville Road, near Hall Road.
