

Basketball post stays in family

By Brad Emons
Staff writer

The next Wayne Memorial boys basketball coach will stay within the family.

Dan Henry, 38, will succeed his brother Chuck as the Zebras' new head coach. The announcement was made Friday by Wayne High athletic director Bill Hawley, who headed a search committee along with assistant principal Neil Thomas and Wayne-Westland Schools administrator Dan Sice.

"We think Dan Henry is a fine basketball coach who will continue the tradition his brother set in the past, which has been so successful," said Hawley. "I don't think we'll miss a beat and I expect the kids will continue to work hard, which has been their trademark in our basketball program."

Chuck Henry left last summer to become the head basketball coach at Walpole Lake Western after going 207-22 in 13 seasons at both Dearborn Divine Child and Wayne High.

Last season the Zebras won Wolverine A League and district titles en route to a 21-2 record. "I consider this a break and I appreciate what the district has done for me," said Dan, currently the head football coach at Romulus High. "It's my job to maintain the time commitment my brother made when he was here and to keep everything under control."

HAWLEY SAID that it was a plus that the new coach taught in the Wayne building. Henry is an instructor in special education.

"That's a major factor in perpetuating a program, it really helps," Hawley said. "And Dan is an excellent coach. We hope that the program will keep on building with Dan as our coach."

Dan Henry coached a nearby John Glenn High from 1977-80. During the 1980 season his Rockets won a Class A district championship.

He was also the head basketball coach in 1983-84 at Trenton High and later returned to Wayne where he served as JV coach under his brother in 1987. He also coached at the junior high level in the Wayne-Westland Schools the past two years.

Big dollars await top amateur bowlers

THEY ARE ALWAYS coming up with bigger and better ways for bowlers to win money. Three promotions are currently taking place in which somebody somewhere is going to win a lot of cash. All of the promotions are for amateurs only — professionals are not eligible to enter.

The second annual Super Bowl High Roller Tournament in Las Vegas features an abundance of ways of making big in this rich megalomaniac event. Top prizes are $150,000, $75,000, $40,000 and $20,000. A field of approximately 856 bowlers start out in quest of the money.

A $1,000 entry fee assures that anyone who wins two matches will receive a prize of $1,000 or more in this scratch, single-game elimination tournament. For details, call 1-800-257-6179.

In the Cambridge Pro-Am, $250,000 in prizes will be awarded. Competition is open to all amateur bowlers who are at least 21 years old and bowl in an established league at a BPAA Bowling Center. Bowlers can qualify during regular league play at participating centers.

THE MEMBERS of each league with the highest score automatically advances to the next round of competition — the "house" championship. From there the winners advance to the state/regional finals, Nov. 10-11, before moving on to the Cambridge Pro-Am, Dec. 6-7, in Reno.

New. The local participating centers are West Bloomfield Lanes, Bel Air Lanes, Mayfield Lanes and Woodland Lanes. Dunkin Donuts sponsors the National Bowling Challenge where the object is to bowl your average — EXACTLY. A $5 entry fee is stipulated when you bowl in regular league competition or open bowling play. It is possible to win a trip to Reno to compete in the national finals. First place prize is $50,000, second place receives $25,000, and from there the prizes decrease. If you win by bowling your average at the nationally televised finals, you take home a cool $1 million. Livonia's Wonderland Lanes is one of the participating bowling centers for this event.

I won $7 in a jackpot last week and at the time I thought that was pretty good. In LOCAL TOURNAMENT play, the Mid-States Masters held its first competition of the season last week at Avon Recreation in Rochester Hills. In the 205 (average-and-under) division, Gus Ghanam was the high qualifier with 1,168 for five games. The tournament winner was Mike Schneider, who shot a 230 game. In the 192 and under division, high qualifier was Don Voght with 1,146 for five games. Don Voght was the "house" champion. Terry O'Neill from Southfield was the tournament winner.

The big winner in the Bowling Just-for-the-Fun-of-It promotion was Livonia's Del Aire Lanes (Farmington Hills) Senior House League. Hawks earn soccer victory

The Farmington Hills Harrison boys soccer team edged visiting Livonia Franklin 2-1 in a Western Lakes Activities Association encounter Friday.

The Hawks (5-5-1) have won four of their last five games. The game was scoreless at halftime, but the two teams picked up the offensive pace in the second half.

Alex Dzyngel and Ben Pinsky tallied second-half goals for Harrison, while David Steinert scored for Franklin. Steinert's score was the first one allowed by Harrison goalie Chris Schowen in three games.

The Patriots fall to 5-5-1.

N'ville tops Hawk swimmers

The Farmington Hills Harrison swimmers couldn't salvage a victory Thursday at Northville, falling to the Mustangs 65-28.

Elaina Trager captured first place in diving for Harrison with a 230.10 score. Michelle Dooper took third in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 1:00.69 and fourth in the 50 freestyle at 27.55.

Harrison falls to 2-4 overall and 0-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

"Northville is a real good team," Harrison coach Terese Peterson said. "I am not disappointed at all with the way we swam."
