

Attendants Wear Burgundy Velvet

Five attendants in burgundy velvet and carrying baskets of pink and white mums preceded Nancy Ellen Horn down the aisle of the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth when she became the bride of John H. Duke Jan. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Horn of Fair Street and Mrs. and Mr. John Duke Sr. of Simpson Avenue, both of Plymouth, are parents of the couple.

The Rev. Paul Cargo officiated, and the bride's father gave her in marriage. A reception for 300 guests in the Mayflower Meeting House followed the ceremony.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN was made of antique white satin with pearl and rhinestone trim. A camelot headpiece set with seed pearls held her waist-length veil and her flowers were baby glads, mums and burgundy roses.

Mrs. Mary Kay Horn, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Lynne Gendreau and Mary Major. Gayle and Lynda De Long were junior bridesmaids.

CRAIG DUKE, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Guests were seated by Pat Williams and Russell Horn, brother of the bride. The bride's mother chose an apricot dress and coat ensemble and Mrs. Duke's costume was pale blue.

The newlyweds flew to West Palm Beach, Fla., and will live in Plymouth. Both attended Plymouth High School and Schoolcraft Community College.

Calkins Make Home In Detroit

Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas Calkins are making their home in Detroit following their recent marriage in St. Alphonsus Catholic Church, Dearborn.

The bride is the former Peggie Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Barr Turner of Albion Street, Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Calkins of Lenane Avenue, Redford Township, are parents of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony the couple was piped out of the church to the strains of the "Highland Wedding," played on the bagpipes by John Goodnow of the St. Andrew Society Pipe Band.

THE BRIDE'S handmade gown was candlelight silk and worsted with accents of Belgian lace and seed pearls. A seed-pearl band trimmed her illusion veil, and she carried a Victorian bouquet of multi-colored flowers.

Mrs. Michael J. Switken of Lumberton, N.J., was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Judith Ellen Bell of

(Peggie Turner)

Livonia and Mrs. James R. Stokes of New York. Their gowns were wool challis in a paisley print on a scarlet background, and they carried multi-colored bouquets.

DALE E. CALKINS of San Diego, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were James R. Stokes, John Antensen of Kalamazoo, and Christopher Calkins and Douglas Turner of Detroit.

For the wedding and dinner reception in Sundog Restaurant, Dearborn, the bride's mother wore blue crepe and the mother of the bridegroom was dressed in champagne gold.

Among the out-of-town guests were the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Barr Maxwell, and her son, James, of Edinburgh, Scotland.

The couple honeymooned in Toronto.

The new Mrs. Calkins is a graduate of Farmington High School and Michigan State University. Her husband holds degrees from MSU and Western Michigan University and is affiliated with Kappa Sigma fraternity. He is employed by Lybrand, Ross Brothers and Montgomery in Detroit.

Florida Honeymoon Follows Wedding

A motor trip to Florida followed the recent wedding of Marie E. Mavis and Roland D. Schlosser.

The couple spoke their vows at a candlelight ceremony at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Dearborn, with the Rev. George P. Hildner officiating. A reception at Warren Valley Country Club followed.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Mavis of Redford Township. The bridegroom's parents are

Mr. and Mrs. O.D. Schlosser, also of Redford Township.

THE BRIDE wore a crystal trimmed gown and carried white roses. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a crystal and pearl crown.

Maureen Hauselt, wearing rose chiffon, was the maid of honor. Mrs. Anita Spiess, as bridesmaid, wore an identical gown, and both attendants carried empire arrangements of rose Fuji mums accented with matching velvet ribbon.

The best man was Stephen Tertel and the bride's brother, Wayne Mavis, was the groomsman.

FOR HER DAUGHTER'S wedding, Mrs. Mavis chose light pink shantung while the bridegroom's mother wore mint green crepe.

The bride and her husband are both Thurston High School graduates. She is also a U-M graduate and teaches math in the Southfield public school system. The bridegroom is a Lawrence Tech graduate and is serving with the U.S. Army.
