Some Sympathy It's A New Role

By BETTY MASSON

The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford is taking on the marital infighting of George and Martha in the Edward Albee play "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

Explains Mrs. Vosgerchian "Martha's father is president of a college, and he hoped that her husband would be able to take over."

MRS. VOSGERCHIAN might be called a woman's liberatorist, except that she hates labels.

However, she is convinced that "A woman isn't very much good to her family unless she is an individual in her own right."

But Mrs. Vosgerchian has never regarded a man as just a meal ticket.

MARY ANN VOSGERCHIAN

self worked part-time ever since her marriage. Next year, she hopes to work full time.

Presently she is an associate professor in the extension department of Oakland Community College.

It's a job which gives her a great deal of satisfaction because she is teaching English to mothers who have a nursery school at the church for the children.

She is also working on a proposal for her PhD dissertation in theatre from the University of Michigan.

Grandmother Has TV 'Visits'

By MARIE MCGEE

Mrs. Eudora Rutherford of Plymouth "visits" with her eight-year-old granddaughter every Friday night while TV stars Andy Griffith and Lee Merriweather hover in the background.

Mrs. Rutherford sits in her living room in the Franks Apartments on Sheldon Road while Lori Ann is several thousand miles away in a California TV studio where she plays the role of Griffith's daughter, Lori, in his new show, "Mr. Mayor."

Lori is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman (Jim) Rutherford. Mrs. Rutherford is the former Billie Jean Carter of Wayne.

AT ONE TIME, he was associated with the Hanna-Barbera Co. syndicators of the Yogi Bear cartoon series.

The Rutherford has four other children, Gayle, 15; Mike, 14; Jay, 8; and Danny, 1.

Lori began her career after she was "discovered" by a Hollywood talent agency.

Her vital statistics can be summed up in round numbers: 48, She's 48 inches tall and weighs 48 pounds.

The freckle-faced model is no stranger to the television audience. She's the charmer in the Purina dog chow commercial who presents a rather large pooch with a gaily wrapped birthday present.

ACTING ISN'T Lori's only talent. She's a singer as well.

Artists Urged To Participate

The Kalamazoo Jaycee auxiliary has invited all interested artists to participate in its benefit art auction March 26.

Artists interested in participating should contact Mrs. James Kalleward, 210 Rose Pl., Kalamazoo, 49001.

The auction will take place in the Kalamazoo West Main Mall.

LORI RUTHERFORD Mayor's daughter ably demonstrating this by singing a duet with popular folk singer Glen Campbell on one of the early shows in the series.

A tape of that duet is one of Grandma Rutherford's prized possessions.

Actually, the "Mayor" series is a pilot program that will be aired for nine weeks.

But Lori knows full well that show biz is a chancy venture. Once she lost out on a lucrative toothpaste commercial job when the tooth fairy claimed her two front teeth.

Wildlife Film To Be Shown

Bower E. Rudrud will narrate his exciting wildlife film, "Treasure of East Africa" Saturday, Feb. 20, at 7:30 p.m., in the Rackham Auditorium.

Tickets may be bought at the door. The showing is sponsored by the Detroit Audubon Society.

Amusements

Ark Stars 2 Singers

A country-western singer and a Scottish singer are among the upcoming attractions at the Ark, 1421 Hill St., Ann Arbor.

Rosalie Sorrels, who has four records to her credit and is a folklorist in Mormon music as well as a country-western singer, will be at the Ark Friday and Saturday evenings, Feb. 19 and 20.

Jean Redpath, one of Scotland's finest singers, will be there Feb. 26 and 27.

The Ark opens Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 and the shows begin at 9. The $1.50 cost of admission covers coffee, doughnuts, crackers and cheese.

The Ark is sponsored by four churches in the Ann Arbor area. It has mid-week programs as well as special weekend attractions. Wednesday evenings are set aside for "hootenannies," and Thursday evenings local talent is featured.

Courses in sensitively training are offered Tuesday evenings. Sunday nights are given over to potluck dinners, beginning at 5.
