

Look at him very carefully. Do you see the connection between his neck and his feet?

Dear, dear, dear. For some men, we agonizingly report, necks and feet are worlds apart. But, surely, you know the truth, as do we, that the necktie is related to hosiery as shoes are to belts or braces, as shirts are to suits or sports coats. Surely. Is it a question of colors? Of patterns? Yes. It's a question of making a complete presentation of self. Would the top of him be in one time zone and the bottom in another? Dear, dear, dear. Come and talk with us about ties and hosiery and a combination gift that will get all of him connected together. But be on your guard, because as soon as you deal with ties and hosiery, we're going to move you right on to pocket squares.

A 'real world' project

Two Farmington area students — Bob Wegryza (second from left) and Dominic Cuozzo (right) — at Southfield's Lawrence Technological University took part in a "real world" project of designing a new archival and research library for the non-profit Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society. Display-

Tyndale sets open house

William Tyndale College, an evangelical Christian college in Farmington Hills, will host an open house 6:30-9:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 3. The school is at 35700 W. 12 Mile Road.

Prospective students, friends and parents are invited to meet faculty and get answers to questions about admissions, financial aid, transfer credits from other colleges and academic programs.

William Tyndale offers 31 bachelor and associate degrees and certificate programs in eight disciplines in liberal arts and Christian ministry. The college is regionally accredited by the North Central Association.

For more information, call the admissions office at 553-7200.

Sewer project meet planned

Earl Billing, building inspector for the city of Farmington, will speak on the city's sewer project at a meeting of the Old Village Association, a homeowners' group, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 29, in the city council chambers of the Farmington City Hall, 23600 Liberty Street.

The public is invited to attend. For more information about the Old Village Association, call Holly Glannola at 478-0917.

Beginning December 4, you must dial "1-313" or your long distance call will not go through.

As of December 4, if the first three digits of your phone number are listed below, you must dial "1-313" when dialing long distance within the 313 area. Otherwise, your call won't be connected. Because that's when final conversion of your neighborhood to "1-313" long distance dialing will be complete. So if you haven't already reprogrammed your speed calling, call forwarding, modem communications software and automatic dialers, you should do so immediately.

And remember, local and zone calls are still seven digits. Not sure what's long distance and what's not? Just check the front of your Ameritech PagesPlus® White Pages directory.

Thanks for dialing "1-313." Because by doing it you're helping to create 1.5 million new phone numbers for our area. And a completed call for yourself.

Beginning December 4, if the first three digits of your phone number are listed here, you must dial "1-313" for long distance calls in the 313 area.
