

Roses Go To 2 Sunday

A "man with a fantastic ear" and a man who "has to be told to stay home from rehearsals" will be honored at Sunday's performance of the Plymouth Symphony in Central High School on Main St., at 4 p.m.

The descriptions come from the symphony's conductor Wayne Dunlap, who will introduce the two to the audience and present each with a red rose. This recognition is part of the symphony's celebration of its 25th year.

The "fantastic ear" for music belongs to Deal Fisher, a string bass player, and "one of the most faithful members we have" is Paul Miller, the symphony's tympanist.

PAUL MILLER

DEAL FISHER
(string bass)

MILLER HAS to be told (by Dunlap) to stay home when the weather is bad. He is the symphony's most-traveled member. His home is in Lansing and he drives about 150 miles a week to take part in the Monday evening rehearsals. In spite of Dunlap's weather advisories, he misses very few.

He may figure that road conditions aren't bad enough to stop him because he does a lot of driving. He has to travel 100 miles a day just to get to and from work. He is chief research attorney in the office of Robert F. Leonard, prosecuting attorney, in Flint.

Miller has been a fan of Dunlap's ever since he arrived at the University of Michigan as a student and found Dunlap there conducting the University Orchestra. He received his bachelor and master's degrees in music from the U-M, and then taught music in Midland.

According to Dunlap, he was a very good teacher, and a high percentage of his students went on to musical careers, including Michael Endres, conductor of Plymouth's Youth Symphony.

Miller decided he would rather practice law than teach and went back to the U-M for his law degree. But he kept up his interest in music through the symphony, and now celebrates his 20th year with it.

He is married and the father of a small son and baby daughter.

FISHER AMAZES members of the symphony by his ability to listen to a phonograph record and then write down every note. This makes him invaluable as the symphony's official arranger, especially around "pops" concert time.

In the symphony, he plays string bass and the classics. Out of the symphony, he plays saxophone and clarinet in dance bands. Currently he plays weekends with the Bob Alexander Band in Flint. He has been with the symphony since 1948, and has been a professional musician for 35 years. He used to play on cruise ships traveling North and South American waters.

During the week, he works out of his Belleville home as a piano tuner, where his "ear" again comes in handy.

He also takes part in more volunteer orchestras than anyone else Dunlap knows, including the Plymouth Community Band, the Detroit Federation of Musicians' Sax Band and circus bands.

Sunday's program will have as guest soloist, the Canadian pianist Muriel Kilby. She will play Saint-Saens Concerto No. 5 in F major for Piano and Orchestra, and the symphony will play works by Mendelssohn and Bartok.

The concert is free and a nursery service is provided.

Concert Set

DETROIT Henry Mancini along with his 40-piece orchestra will appear Friday, March 19, at 8:30 p.m., at the University of Detroit Memorial Building, 4001 W. McNichols.

Singers Plan Waltz Program

The Michigan Chambers Singers will turn their talents to waltzes in their performance Wednesday, March 10, at Schoolcraft College.

The singers will be heard at 8 p.m., in the Little Theatre of the Liberal Arts Building, Haggerty Rd., Livonia. The concert is free to the public.

The program will open with the Liebeslieder Waltzes (love song waltzes) by Brahms and close with the New Liebeslieder, also by Brahms.

Four pieces from the "Dolly" suite by Faure will be presented by pianists Mrs. Deanna Relyea Boylan and Mrs. Penelope Ball Crawford.

The program will also include three songs by Hindemith. The singers, from the University of Michigan, are Dr. Oscar Henry, tenor; Rosemary Russell, mezzo soprano; Mrs. Nancy Jaynes Bloom, soprano; and Willis Patterson, bass. Mrs. Boylan and Mrs. Crawford are the accompanists.

Club Plans 'Encore II'

DETROIT The Men's Glee Club of Wayne State University will present its "Encore II" concert at 8:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13, in the Community Arts Auditorium, WSU campus.

Tickets may be obtained at the WSU ticket office, Grinnell's downtown and from any member of the club.

Area residents performing in the concert are Michael Colone and Leo W. Watkins, both of Livonia.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to sponsor the club's European concert tour this summer.

The itinerary includes choral competition at the International Musical Eisteddfod in Llangollen, Wales, where the club, directed by Dr. Harry Langford of Southfield, won first prize in the male choir competition in 1968.

Amusements

Student Is Soloist

Susan Frontczak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frontczak of Farmington, will be one of the soloists in a student recital in the Detroit Institute of Arts lecture hall, 5200 Woodward, Sunday, March 7, at 3 p.m.

The program is being presented by the Detroit Community Music School and will feature 12 students as well as the DCMS Chamber Orchestra and Percussion Ensemble.

Susan will play the Sonata in C minor by Handel on the oboe. She is a scholarship student at the music school.

A 10th grader at Harrison High School, she recently represented her school at the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Assn. Festival where she was awarded a "one" rating for her oboe solo.

She is a member of the Harrison High School Symphonic Band, the Farmington Community Band and the Livonia Youth Symphony.

Art Show Is Planned

Artists Edie Joppick and Marilyn Jenks of Farmington and Caroline Dunphy of Livonia will be featured in a contemporary art show in Detroit the weekend of March 12, 13 and 14.

Their works will be included in a display in St. Mary's of Redford Activities Building, St. Mary's Road, between Fenkell and Grand River, Detroit.

The show is sponsored by the Northwest Art Patrons, a group interested in civic improvement through cultural events. They are sponsored by the St. Mary's Dads' Club.

This year's show, which ranges from photographic representation art to non-objective abstractionism, includes all forms of ceramics, weaving and photography. It is a juried show.

Exhibit hours are Friday, from 8 to 11 p.m., Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., and Sunday, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Tickets are available at the office of the University Musical Society, Burton Tower.

DICK BENSEK

Here are some tips on meat grades: the rib roast is unexcelled for tenderness and flavor, and is easily carved and served. Rib roasts should be at least two ribs thick for best cooking. Steaks cut from the ribs of the higher grades are tender and flavorful. But at least a pound for each two servings. A rump roast rivals the rib in flavor but is not quite as tender. For easier carving, this roast can be boned and rolled. A pound should serve about two people. The blade chuck is generally an economical cut — higher grades can be even roasted. In any grade, it makes a delicious pot roast.

Take a tip from those in the know — for flavorful food served in a charming atmosphere visit DANISH INN, 32305 Grand River Ave., 476-5320. Open: 11 a.m. - 2 a.m. with dinner during the week until 10 p.m., Fri. and Sat. until 1 a.m. Closed Sundays. Reservations are recommended for the weekends.

HELPFUL HINT: A Good grade T-bone steak can be more tender than a Choice grade round steak.
