Board deadlocks on Headlee petition

Michigan voters will have to let the court decide whether they can vote on the Headlee 20 percent property ax cut initiality.

The state Board of Canvassers deadlocked 2-2 Wednesday on whether to accept the staff report that the petition drive was 7,000 signatures short.

Members are Republicans Jim Alexander, a Birmingham attorney and Oakland GOP chair, and Gall Torreano, a Senate staff member, and Democrats Mike Pyne, a UAW official from Lansing, and Bernice Shields of Detroit.

The two Democrats Pyne and Shields voted to accept the staff report and the two Republicans Alexander and Torreano voted against accepting.

"The Democrats have disenfranchised thousands of voters. We'll be in the Court of Appeals within two mints," publicist Bill McMaster Staff.

Secretary of State staff used a sampling method to determine that only 184,390 were valid.

Earlier Wednesday, the state Senate did not vote on this resolution urging the canvassers to place Headlee II on the ballot.

Gov. John Engler last week issued a statement urging the canvassers to grove swiftly in certifying the proposal.

IF APPROVED by voters, the Headlee initiative would create a statement with the state senate of the state senate o Marty
