

Men Who Will Govern Farmington For Next Two Years

Four of the seven men on Farmington's new City Commission, which meets for the first time Monday evening, will be new members of the governing body. Two members have served only half of the terms to which they were elected, and one was re-elected for four years on April 1.
