Religion Update

Even as The Vatican announced its abandonment of the anachronistic sport of heresy-hunting, the president of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, was busy imposing a theological inquisition upon the faculty of his denomination's Concordia Seminary in St. Louis.

The Vatican's Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith has quite sensibly announced that it will no longer use the word heretic.

And rather than reacting to variant opinion with fire, sword, or oblique suggestion, eternal damnation, it will instead censure as erroneous... and this only after due consultation with the accused, his bishop and two independent theologians.

IN ST. LOUIS, the faculty of Concordia Seminary charged, in effect, that it was heresy-hunter in Dr. John Warwick Montgomery of Deerfield, Ill.

Montgomery, chairman of the church history department at Deerfield's ultraconservative Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, has far more academic distinctions than Preuss - which achievements he is by no means reluctant to display.

For instance, he recently participated in a debate at San Diego State College, where he arrived equipped with a mimeographed resume and biographical sketch which was five pages long, with 140 entries.

THIS IMPRESSIVE document (which is more than twice the size of the resume of renowned theologian Reinhold Niebuhr) advises that Montgomery is among "2000 Men of Achievement."

For President Preuss, who believes that Adam and Eve were historical beings and that Jonah was literally swallowed by a great fish, has appointed a "fact-finding commission," designed apparently to flush out alleged heterodoxy at Concordia.

AMONG FIVE commissioners is Dr. Paul Zimmerman of Ann Arbor, who (seriously) contends that the world was created in six days of 24 hours each. Another commissioner is South Wisconsin District President Karl Barth (no relation to the famed theologian), who has publicly demanded that Wisconsin's State Department of Natural Resources stop maintaining that the earth is more than 6,000 years old.

The effect of this Preuss-probe has been described by the ordinarily staid and conservative Protestant monthly Christian Herald as "The Missouri Synod Civil War" - in predicting a possible schism in the three million-member denomination.

Even if President Preuss is somehow checked (or even recalled from office) at the denomination's biennial convention next July, the "Missouri Synod" has another leading heresy-hunter in Dr. John Warwick Montgomery of Deerfield, Ill.

Montgomery, chairman of the church history department at Deerfield's ultraconservative Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, has far more academic distinctions than Preuss - which achievements he is by no means reluctant to display.

For instance, he recently participated in a debate at San Diego State College, where he arrived equipped with a mimeographed resume and biographical sketch which was five pages long, with 140 entries.

After Fletcher had contended that sometimes lying is ethical conduct - as in the case of saving a child's life by concealment from a potential murderer - Montgomery affirmed:

"There is no way short of sodium pentothal, of knowing when the situationist is actually endeavoring to set forth genuine facts and when he is lying like a trooper... it leaves me, the protagonist, and you the audience, entirely incapable of ever being sure that Prof. Fletcher means what he says."

Half Of Catholics Like Vatican Council Changes

Roughly half of the lay Catholics in the Archdiocese of Detroit agree with the manner and speed of church renewal growing out of the Vatican Council of the early 1960s, according to the most recent report on an archdiocesan survey. "Insight: Our Faith Today," ordered by Cardinal John Dearden.

About half of the remainder of the changes are being made too quickly and the rest are equally divided between those opposing change entirely and those wanting change speeded up.

The survey, which was supervised by Dr. Arthur X. Deegan, director of the archdiocesan Office of Planning and Research, used computerized techniques scientifically to sample the 1.6 million archdiocesan Catholics. Priests, sisters and brothers and high school and college youth were also surveyed.

opposition to the teachings of the Pope is "incompatible with my idea of a good priest."

• Most of the laity and priests agree that priests owe loyalty to their bishop, but more than four in five agree a priest should be willing to oppose a bishop "after much reflection" in a serious matter.

• Of the laity, only a bare majority, 51 per cent, think

Plays Set In All Saints
Orders are now being taken for tickets to an evening of "theologically singing" plays to be presented in All Saints Lutheran Church, 8590 Newburgh, Livonia.
The plays are written and performed by Norman and Sandra Dietz of New York City, and will be presented Friday, April 2, at 8 p.m., in the chapel. This is their second visit to the church.
Requests for tickets, at $2.50 each, should be mailed to the church as soon as possible, as seating capacity in the chapel is limited. No tickets will be sold at the door.
EARLIER survey reports indicated:
• A 56 per cent majority of the laity had 68 per cent of priests would permit priests to marry if they wished.
• There is a strong concen-
