Hixson At Large
By DUMONT F. HIXSON, JR.

The efficiency of any organization is inversely proportional to the number of committees it has. Moreover, the larger the individual committee the less efficient it tends to be. It is noteworthy that the more efficient corporate institutions make little use of committees. Texas Instruments, for example, uses task forces, comprised of individuals with individual responsibility.

Despite the lack of productivity associated with committees they remain popular. The love of committees tends to be proportional to the inefficiency of the individual advocating their use. Perhaps this accounts for the notorious inefficiency of our educational institutions. Educational institutions have, after all, been known to study committees — the zenith of inefficiency. Absolute committees corrupt absolutely.

THE VIRTUE OF A committee is that it creates the illusion of activity, thereby creating the desired image for the non-productive members of an organization.

A Dean of an urban university has what he calls a "phut" committee where he puts obstructionists who tend to get in the way, or to be too productive. But committees have a more sophisticated function.

They generate reams of minutes that are numbered, cataloged, and promptly forgotten.

Or if an administrator wishes to avoid a decision, he merely refers the matter to a committee. If the committee tenders a proposal that is inconsistent with an administrator's desires, he may then appoint a "fact-finding" committee.

And if the facts are untenable, one may resort to the aforementioned committee to study the committee structure. Nothing succeeds like a committee.

Indeed the oscillations of the Soviet Union in Cuba and Czechoslovakia were undoubtedly due to the reverberations of a super-committee. Yet the Americans are not to be outdone. Committees have become a constitutional right. There is a Supreme Court decision somewhere.

Perhaps one should not make such gentle assertions as these. Someone is liable to form a committee to study the problem.

Wonderland Center Celebrates Ninth Year

Wonderland Center will celebrate its 9th anniversary and salute American politics in a bunting-draped observance Oct. 14-19.

The week-long program will be called "People's Choice" with the center providing a home for politicians.

The stores and shops and the mall will be decorated with pictures of all leading candidates, show windows will display other art and a "People's Choice" item placed on special sale.

The center will be decorated much like a convention hall, with the platform for speakers being erected either in the mall or in the parking lot on the Plymouth Rd. side.

Republicans will stage a rally at 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 18, and the Democrats will take over for a rally at 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19.

Each party will be invited to bring on speakers ruming for congress and above.

Young Republicans and Democrats will distribute campaign material at the center all week. The Livonia League of Women Voters will use the center for their get-out-the-vote drive.

There will be a large birthday cake honoring the center, decorated with elephants and donkeys to carry out the political motif.

To top off the week of celebration and politics, the center will have a fireworks display on Saturday, Oct. 19 at 9 p.m.
