

MR. AND MRS. WALTER NACKER

Hosanna Tabor Rites Unite Pair

Elizabeth Ann Meyer and John Philip Anstedt were recently wed in a double-ring ceremony in the Hosanna Tabor Lutheran Church with the Rev. R.G. Pransky officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Meyer, of Westland, and the Rev. Philip J. and Mrs. Anstedt, of Fremont, Ill.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a peau de sole gown with a sabrina neckline, long bell sleeves, and a wateau chapel-length train. Her bouffant veil was attached to a crown of peau de sole, lace petals, and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses with a detachable white carnation corsage.

THE BRIDE'S sister, Patricia, served as maid of honor. She selected a yellow empire dress, and carried a yellow carnation bouquet.

Other attendants were Philip Stanorak, the bridegroom's sister, Linda Dixon, and Susan Drummond. They were green dresses similar to the honor attendants'. Flower girl Karen Giesman wore a yellow dress, and a wateau chapel-length train. The bridesmaids were Paul Weller, William Horne, and Peter Eichinger.

The bride is employed as a keypunch operator and her husband, a Wayne State University graduate, is employed by the Ford Motor Co.

The couple left for a honeymoon in northern Michigan following a reception in Cregar's Pickwick House.

They will make their home in Westland.

Ancient Sport Enjoys Northwest 'Y' Revival

Fencing is a proud and ancient sport. It is by no means easy, but it is rewarding. Surely you have read about and seen on the screen the thrilling battle of blades, the glory of the sword-wielding swash-bucklers as they duelled for their honor, love or very lives.

Today, one no longer duels on staircases or at dawn with "seconds" standing by.

Fencing has been groomed and refined into a highly competitive sport. Through practice, fencing offers one poise, coordination, speed, quickened reflexes and—a major asset nowadays—it keeps one trim and slim through a sound program of exercises.

FENCING IS GROWING all over America. More and more schools and colleges have fencing programs, as do an increasing number of organizations, such as the YWCA.

Although the Northwest YWCA, 25940 Grand River, has had a fencing class for several years, its program did not begin to expand until two years ago. Since then, it has mushroomed. This fall, for the first time, the YW will be offering a comprehensive fencing program for all ages.

The YW also has its own fencing club, The Rapiers, which competes with other fencing clubs in the metropolitan Detroit area. Whereas only a handful of people were fencing two years ago, by the end of this spring term, over 30 were enjoying the sport at the YW.

CLASSES FOR the fall term are underway at the Northwest Branch YWCA. The only requirements are slacks, tennis shoes, a glove, and willingness to try a new and exciting sport. The YW provides the place, time, equipment and coach.

Beginning teens meet at 6:30 p.m., beginning adults at 7:30 p.m., and The Rapiers from 8:15 to 10 p.m.
