

Rebellious brights . . . breaking the rules for autumn and larger-size fashions. Left: Swing jacket with important-for-all, zipper over short-sleeve top in hot pink or kelly green. Right: all-cotton interlock, long-sleeve top with pocket zipper and easy pant. Elaine B's, Sugar Tree, West Bloomfield.

Comfort and individuality. Tick pattern, shirt-tail cardigan jacket teams up with solid black ribbed long-sleeve T-shirt and solid black ottoman stoppage trousers. Fringed shawl is charcoal heather, super soft, cotton interlock. Herhs's, on the Boardwalk, West Bloomfield.

The outrageous cat suit returns for yet another season, alone or layered. Cream white wool jersey and Lycra hooded cat suit by Gentry Portofino ($290). Dane M. Birmingham.

Great looks Put your best face forward

IN A SEASON of varied silhouettes, patterns and shapes, one thing's a given — the best looks for this season begin and end with a fabulous face. "The look for fall is neutrals applied more dramatically. Checks are pale, very muted eyes with '60s liner, darker eyebrows are important and big sexy lips," said Tamara Friedman, owner of Tamara's Institute de Beaute in Farmington Hills. "Flawless skin and makeup blending are the secrets to beautiful makeup."

Literally hundreds of skin-toned hues in matte, dewy or powdery finishes now are available in concealers, foundations and powders, so you can create a face that sets the stage for the season's powerful colors. Some cosmetic counters will go as far as custom-designing the perfect hue for you, while sunless bronzers mimic a perfect tan without any help from the rays. Taking the best of the '60s and tuning it down a bit, makeup experts are once again creating "doo eyes" with subtle tones of eyeliner extended outward beyond lashes, curly top lashes with several coats of brown or black mascara and well-defined eyebrows with just the right amount of pencil.

Complete the look with pretty pinks on lips, nails, cheeks and eyelids. Another option: ice-blue shadow a la '60s, only in barely-there applications. Basic black has taken a back seat to the bold blocks of color-making headlines on the runways — and cosmetic colors are following suit. Now's your chance to mix and match colors that you never dared before, such as cinnamon, green, teal and amethyst eye shadows, followed up with equally bold lip and nail shades.
