CLARENCEVILLE SCHOOL NOTES

CLARENCEVILLE SCHOOL NOTES

The following pupils of the sec- ond grade were neither absent nor tardy during the month of December:

- Hedwig Berger.
- Hugh Jones.
- Peter Derrick.
- Harold Thornton.
- Alvin Saller.
- John Sewell.
- Ardie Worely.
- George Barnum.

Sixth Grade

B. Pfahler.

The sixth grade has finished the work on an outline for the Plateau States. They are inter- ested in finding pictures concern- ing these states for their note- books.

For competition in spelling the pupil that has the most perfect pen- ciling during the month receives the honor of coloring a calendar for the succeeding month.

The pupils have completed the poem and memorization of the poem, "It Couldn't Be Done" by Edgar A. Guest.

English Department

E. W. Bachus

Glady Wood, Juanita Winters, Mabel Newman and Ethel Maety attended the play "As You Like It" which was presented at North- western High School Saturday evening. The girls were espec- ially interested in the production inasmuch as the tenth grade Eng- lish class studied it some weeks ago.

The ninth grade English class have just begun to read Tenny- son's narrative poem, "Enoch Arden."

TRI-TOWNSHIP MEETING AND INSTALLATION

The Tri-Township Community Association held their regular meeting and installation of offi- cers at the school house Friday evening. Mr. Klint gave a talk on the work done in the past year. Mr. Milton Purkey, the new pres- ident for 1926 then took the chair with the best wishes of all present. A rising vote of thanks was given to the retiring president for his work of the year. A social hour followed. Refreshments were served by the ladies which were greatly enjoyed.

POSTPONED ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Claren- ceville Cemetery Association, which was advertised for Wednes- day, January 13, has been post- poned for two weeks, on account of but six members being present whereas the by-laws call for ten for a quorum.

All members please note care- fully the postponed date—Wed- nesday, January 27 at 2:00 p. m. at the residence of Charles and Henrietta Heise.

Besides electing new trustees and officers the question of rais- ing the assessment will be acted upon. Those interested are urged to be present.

Julia Tyler, Secretary.

DAVE WOODRUFF TAKES OVER GAS STATION

David Woodruff has officially taken over the Grand River and Orchard Lake Road corner gas station of the Detroit Independ- ent Oil Co. at Farmington, Mich- igan. He will continue to handle the Detroit Independent gas and oil but he is now the proprietor of the service station and will be glad to see his many friends drive up any time and become regular customers either wholesale or re- tail.

Dave is quite well known around this part of the country, having been with the D. U. R. for thirty years.

Canadian Antelopes

Antelopes, which were threatened with extinction in Canada a few years ago, have been successfully preserved in Nemadji National park. When this preserve was established in 1916 there were only 45 in the herd, the last survivors of thousands that once had roamed the prairies. There are now 235 in the herd, a gain of 190.

LEGION WELFARE FUND TO BE AGAIN AUDITED

In order to clear the horizon of the smoke screen that has been cast about the American Legion in Michigan by several newspa- pers that have printed alleged scandal stories in order to dis- credit the Legion in this state for political purposes, the state wel- fare fund given the Legion by the state legislature several years ago, will again be audited within the next ten days and a report furnished every post of the Le- gion in Michigan, and any other person or persons seeking infor- mation regarding it.

Charles J. DeLand, secretary of state, of Michigan will work in conjunction with the Legion to place the true facts before the members of the Legion and every citizen in this state who is inter- ested. At the request of the State Welfare committee of the Legion Mr. DeLand has agreed to have a member of the State Board of Accountancy work with a firm of certified public accountants of international repute in making this audit, which will supplement the audit placed on file with the secretary of state on November 20 last. The expense of this new audit will be met by the three members of the Legion's state welfare committee. The members of the State Welfare committee and the Legion officials have nothing to hide in the manner in which the welfare fund has been handled, and they court any in- vestigation that might be made to place the Legion in its true light before the public.

TRENTINI AND ZARDO HEADLINE AT TEMPLE

Mme. Emma Trentini, celebra- ted little star of "The Firefly" and "Naughty Marietta," and Eric Zardo, the eminent concert pianist appear jointly as headliners on the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre, starting Sunday matinee January 24. Mme. Trentini re- cently returned to America after three years in Italy where she proved a decided sensation. She will offer a well balanced pro- gram of songs from her operatic successes and has with her Eric Zardo both as an accompanist and soloist. Others billed: Jim- my Nervo and Teddy Knox, great London music hall favorites in "Fantastic Frolics," Coram and "Jerry" direct from the London Hippodrome in a novel ventur- ous scene, "Whitehall-London," Ethel Davis, late of the Green- wich Village Follies in refresh- ing song chatter with Earl Brown at the piano; Edith Clasp- re, daintiest of dancers, in "Smuggled Goods" with Bud Sherman, Jack Meyers and Don Roberts; Will and Gladys Ahern in an od- dity "A Spinning Romance"; the Four Jansleys, world renowned risley experts; Hal Roach pre- sents, Glenn Tryon in "Long Pants," a big two-reel comedy and the usual scene subjects.

extended only to buildings com- pleted before the end of 1926. The regulation has been modified, how- ever, to the effect that houses com- menced after August 25 must pay one-fiftieth of the normal tax in 1927, increasing by the same amount each year until the full tax becomes operative after 1940.—Commer- ce Reports.

Village Long Submerged

Reappearance of a Switzerland village inundated more than 300 years ago was noticed recently at Lake Antrona. A landslide caused the water levels to recede and grad- ually the ruins of the old village, comprising forty-two buildings, were disclosed. The village of Antrona Piana was flooded by a monster spring freshet and has lain sub- merged for three centuries.

Dipper's English Alias

The constellation of Ursa Major, the Great Bear, and commonly known as the "Great Dipper," is referred to in England as "Charles' wain" or wagon.—Science Service.

The Reason

Habbit—Your summer home is nowhere near the sea. Why do you call it the Breakers? Spend it. Cause it broke me.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

His Great Oversight

Once a hunter wrote a good ward for a comic opera, and before he could correct his mistake the paper had gone to press.—Florida Times-Union.

He Has Many Names

The earl scooter boasts more titles than a phenotypic nobleman, says Na- ture Magazine, having upward of a score of local names, among the most elegant being those of plaster bill, mo- rocco few, goggle nose and snufftaker. The more common name is coot.

Infrequent Church Service

At State Hill) near Middletown, N. J., is a church building in which meeting is held but once a year.

The church, the Old School Baptist church, is 133 years old, and the membership has become so reduced by death and removals that services oftener than once every twelve months would work a hardship upon its members.

When a meeting is held, how- ever, it lasts all day, with three ser- mons and a big dinner.

At this year's meeting the minis- ters who preached were Elder George Rusten, Kelley Corners, Pa.; Elder Walker, Danville, Va.; and Elder Dodson, Rutherford, N. J.—Chi- cago Post.

Italy's Taxless House

The Italian cabinet has approved a decree prolonging through 1928 the regulation granting exemption from taxation of dwelling houses, hotels, stores and offices for a period of twenty-five years from their com- pletion. The exemption originally
