"GOOD OLD FARMINGTON"

The following letter was received at The Enterprise office this week:

Grand Ledge, Mich.

April 10, 1926.

Editor The Enterprise: Please forward the newspaper for a second year. It is a constant reminder of good old Farmington.Quite a number of my relatives and other friends now reside in the school and tax payers.

Very truly yours,

"RAIN" AT NEW DETROIT

Now comes Jeanne Engels in "Rain." There is a combination indeed! Jeanne Engels and "Rain" are synonymous of a rare combination of inspired acting and inspired writing seldom witnessed upon the American stage.
Here is something of which the theatre as an institution may boast—Jeanne Engels and Rain!They have never been separated in this particular organization, which comes to the New Detroit Opera House April 26, since the opening of this famous drama at the Garrick Theatre, Philadelphia, October 10, 1922—four years ago. This is something new for the theatre. After four years of almost continuous pre-And the players surrounding Miss Engels? She will be supported by practically the same principles—99 per cent of them—who created their respective roles four years ago at Philadelphia. There is something new for the theatre also. It is a record, if you will. And what a blessing to the stage! It is time for a new generation—almostNot a bit of need to recite the story of "Rain." Or to state that Jeanne Engels is to be seen in the star role of Sadie Thompson, vital palpitating Sadie! No need of talking about the theme—the locale—the atmosphere. They may all come from books. Something between covers, artificial, not genuine. But here is something that everyone must understand—for here is a bit of life.
Here is the language of the great highway of life. For in life tears may come from happiness; smiles out of tragedy; goodness out of badness; gladness out of sorrow; sanctity out of blasphemy. This is what every living person knows, be he or she infidel or prude, and it is this you will get from Jeanne Engels' interpretation of the character of Sadie Thompson in "Rain."It might be set down in passing that "Rain" is a drama of the South Seas and the insidious in-fluence of "last remaining bit of paradise." In a South Seas setting the story treats of the conflict between a product of the "red light" district of San Francisco and Honolulu and the bigotry of a missionary fanatic.The play is by John Colton and Clemence Randolph, and was taken from the story "Miss Thompson" by W. Somerset Maugham.
It was directed by John D. Wil-iams. Sam H. Harris has the pleasure to present it.

The engagement of "Rain" in Detroit is for one week only, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.
