IT ISN'T UNTIL you have the seed catalogs in front of you that you reach the time of decision — the time when you must make up your mind whether you will grow vegetables, flowers or both in your garden. A vegetable garden like this one furnishes a lot of good eating and a lot

BUT A FLOWER border, colorful with marigolds, zinnias and a border of multi-hued an-nual phlox is a delight to behold and furnishes flowers for the house. Perhaps you'd better decide to grow both vegetables and flowers in

All-Americas Selections Add Glamour To Gardens

The "All-America Selections" are sure to be superior. These are plants that have been tested and judged by an organization of American and Canadian seedsmen and found to have especially desirable characteristics.

THE ORGANIZATION was founded in 1932, and now there are fifty test gardens

By BETTY FRANKEL Special Wirts.

It's fun to try something new once in a while — a new hair style, a new restaurant, a new soit or dress. It makes life more interesting, too, if you try garden will be more interesting, too, if you try growing some of the new growing some some in the growing some of the new growing some some in the growing that has inmense dinner that has been dear that heav growing the growing

Start flower and vegetable seeds indoors for a head start ...
Give lawns a brisk raking ... Feed established lawns and reseed bare spots ... Seed new lawns as early as possible, but the ground should be carefully goaded first and given ample time to settle ... Feed trees and shouls. Prune trees and shouls that may have broken branches or need shaping ... Apply dormant oil sprays to fruit and ornamental trees when temperatures are above freezing ... Order any seeds that will be needed for spring planting.

after the secus have been planted.

The All-America Selections for last year are worth considering, too. These are Dianthus "China Doll", dwarf French Marigold "Bolero", Morning glory "Early Call Rose" and snapdragon "Mad-

When it comes to buying oak and durable as the highest and flooring, buy for appearance, not for 'grade,' recommends the Oak Flooring Institute.

The fact is that oak flooring is graded by appearance, not grade of the thing that should rule is graded by appearance, not because of its quality as a flooring material. Thus, the lowest and least expensive grades many not flooring material. Thus, the lowest and least expensive grades will provide floors that is a pink holes and whorts. Grows Tall Or Short Calliopsis the name usually given to the annual form of corcopsis, is one of the easiest plants you can grow. The ground anywhere that there's sun. Soil makes no difference, good or bad will do. And no real care is needed.

The odd common name of tickseed comes from the appearance of the seeds, which impressed early bat nists as being bug-like. Plowers are showy and appear all through the summer. Most are yellow with the base of each petal a deep maroon.

THERE ARE both double-

Calliopsis, the name usually flowered and single flowered

Ilowered and single flowered forms in tall and short heights. The tall grows to three feet and the dwarf to only eight inches.

You can usually by so leads of the tall growers only in mixture of colors of single-flowered or double-flowered or both types.

But the shorter varieties have names. Tiger Star and Golden Ray being two of them. Both of these grow eight inches tall and form little mounds of color. Tiger Star has crimson blooms with mottlings of gold: Golden Ray has yellow flowers with a crimson eye zone.
