WILL MAHONEY HEADLINES AT TEMPLE THEATRE

Will Mahoney, just back from recent triumphs at the London music halls, with his funny songs and his own brand of dancing, headlines the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre starting Sunday afternoon. Mahoney is one of the funniest comedians in American vaudeville. He has natural wit and the art of conveying emotions by gestures and facial expressions. Others billed: "The Red Follies," a speedy dance review featuring Lois Syrell, Peggy O'Neil, Bland O'Connell, Alvin Eley and a beauty chorus; Chic Yorke and Ross King in "The Old Family Tin Type;" Eddie Pardo and Company, featuring Gloria Archer and an excellent cast in "Isn't It Wonderful?" Chappelle and Carlton offer a "A Few Things You Haven't Seen;" Perez and Marguerite, "Originators of the Jazz Blues" and the weekly screen program.

GILDA GRAY'S NEW DANCE SCHEDULED FOR DETROIT SOON

Announcement was made today by the management of the new $5,000,000 "Michigan Theatre" operated by John H. Kunsky and Balaban & Katz, that arrangements have been completed for a week's engagement of Gilda Gray and her entire company, presenting her sensational new dance. The engagement will be simultaneous with the appearance there of the feature picture, "Alone Of The South Seas," which is Miss Gray's first starring movie vehicle.

This announcement is hailed in Detroit as most astonishing, because in New York and Chicago patrons pay from $4.40 up to whatever the ticket scalpers demand for seats to witness her performance. The Michigan Theatre which charges the smallest admission in Detroit, will present the show at their usual prices, just as they did last week when George Beban and his company of 27 players appeared in person on the stage in conjunction with his movie, "The Loves Of Ricardo." At this performance, nearly 200 police and firemen had to assist in handling the crowds, which were lined up from early in the morning until late at night. Though the theatre defeated efforts of "ticket scalpers," many persons succeeded in hiring men and boys to stand in line for them and trade places as the ticket doorman was reached.

The theatre, which opened August 23, has been filled to capacity ever since at each of its five daily performances which accommodate 5,000 patrons at each show.

An easy buyer is usually a poor buyer.

Later the company is to take over and develop the larger Mavromatic concession for water supply.
