Ice Drinking Glasses
 Sanitary drinking cups and glasses of ice are formed in a freezing apparatus devised by a Dutch engineer. They are said to last 30 minutes in a warm room and have an outer cover and an inner core for strength and easy handling. Besides keeping the liquid cool, they eliminate the danger of communicating disease, as frequently occurs with a common cup.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

While it is rather difficult to achieve riches, it is much harder to achieve success.

DOG OWNERS ATTENTION
 Due to the fact that a dog in the community was killed because of rabies, all dogs in the city must be muzzled or on a leash until February 15, 1927.

Every dog loose on the streets will be caught and held for 24 hours, during which time the owner may claim the dog and have same by paying a fee of $3. Dogs which are not claimed will be disposed of.

In case the dog cannot be caught it will be shot. Anyone seeing loose dogs around please notify the marshal.
 Z. R. Aschenbrenner, M. D.
 Health Officer.

Farmington School News

Kindergarten
 We are working on a sand table project making Eskimos and igloos and everything connected with the Arctic.
 We have learned a song about a snowman which we act out.
 —Miss Reed.

First Grade
 We also are making a winter scene on our sand table but is not completed yet.
 —Miss Phillips.

Second Grade (Opportunity Room)
 We are having health inspection in our room every morning and are keeping the record on a chart. Ralph's class have their penmanship in the third.
 —Miss Koterba.

Second Grade
 We are starting a story of the Eskimos and also learning to tell time. This last month we have had nearly perfect attendance.
 —Miss Sharp.

Fourth Grade
 We are very busy finding out all the interesting places in the Middle Atlantic States. We plan to spend several days in New York City, visiting its factories, stores, parks, piers and other places of interest.
 Fourth grade people hope to learn many useful things from our collection of geographic pictures.

Writing "diaries" is a new experience to most of us—but it is interesting to know how some of our neighbors spend their time. Marjorie Hunt won a most exciting arithmetic "race" during the month of December.
 —Miss McClellan.

Fifth Grade
 We made maps of South America in geography.
 We have received the volley ball which the Fourth and Fifth grade received for selling Christmas sales.

—Miss Bebe.

Sixth Grade
 The names on the honor roll last month were: Evelyn Baker, Helen Borchart, Mildred Conner, Charlotte Lester, Mason McDonaId, Pierson Rogers, Leone Tebbel, Lavern Turner, Merle Van Marter, Howard Westfall, Wayne Wixom.

—Miss Thornton.
Seventh Grade
 Miss Wallace has been absent since Christmas on account of illness and Mrs. Bartlett (formerly Miss Hudson) is substituting for her.
 —Miss Wallace.

Eighth Grade
 Under the direction of Miss Hawkins the eighth grade is having a monthly newspaper of their own. It is called the "Eighth Grade Special" and is especially good.

In arithmetic we are studying banking and on "Bank Day" we try to recall what we have learned about savings accounts. "Big daks from little acorns grow."
 We are anxiously watching the skating rink progress.

—Miss Tapia.

High School News
 The student council was a success in which two were elected from the ninth and tenth grades and three from each of the eleventh and twelfth grades. The ones that were elected are as follows: Of the ninth grade, Grace Newcomb, Lois Murphy; tenth grade, Dick Cox, Lloyd Halstead; eleventh grade, Kenneth Palmer, Mildred Brown, Robert Carr; twelfth grade, Ellen Perry, Allan Kilson, Marion Brock. The seniors at the present time have their stands for selling licenses at the Farmington Hardware Co. and the Ford Garage. The final examination of the first semester will begin in the last week of January.

Henry Otis, the star football player of Farmington High School has the honor of being in the suburban league.

Every Tuesday morning bank day occurs which has been quite successful.

Miss Lockwood is getting up an operetta by the choir and glee club of the Farmington High School, called "The Rings in the Sawdust."

Athletics
 The Farmington boys were defeated at St. Mary's Tuesday, January 11. Farmington scored but one field basket and three foul skats. The score was 28 to 5.

Friday, January 7, the Farmington High School boys played Ypsilanti at home.
 The game was very fast and a very close game.

 There were a great many good plays made by the team.
 Farmington finally took the game by a score of 22 to 14.
 The F. H. S. girls played Trenton at Trenton Friday night. The game was close until the end and when the Farmington girls made a few baskets and won by a score of 46 to 39.

Next game. Boys, Northville at Northville, Friday, January 14. Girls, Royal Oak at Royal Oak. Come out and support the team. Rah! Rah! Farmington.
 K. Banfield.

Freshman Party
 Half of the Freshmen Latin class had to give a party for the other half last Friday. Miss Boorman gave them five contests and the losing side had to give the winning side a party. The contest consisted of the translation of the Latin vocabulary. Eleanor Perry was leader of the losing side and Wanetta Arms leader of the winning side. Sandwiches were served and games were played.

Debating News
 Thursday evening, January 6, a practice debate was held at Hazel Park. There was not a decision made.

Friday afternoon, January 7, a debate was held at Bedford. This, also, was a practice debate and no decision was made.

There is to be a debate held in the Farmington High School Thursday evening, January 13. There have been two debates. One with New Hudson and one with Brighton at which the decision was made in our favor.

Those on the affirmative side are Cedric Harger, Mildred Brown and Robert Kerr. On the negative side are Helen Kraft, Vera Jean McCafferty and Lois Young.

Bees and Bees-Ness
 Said a wise old bee at the close of the day, This colony business doesn't pay. I put my money in that old hive that others there may eat and thrive, and I do more work in a day, by gee, than some of the other fellows do. In three, I toil and worry and save my hoard, and all I get is my room and board.

It's me for a hive I can run myself, and me for the sweets of my hard-earned pelf. So the old bee flew to a meadow lone and started a business all his own. He gave no thought to the buzzing clan, but, all intent on his selfish plan, he lived the life of a hermit free. Ah this is great, said the wise old bee.

But the summer waned and the days grew drear, and the old bee wailed as he dropped a tear; for the varmint gobbled his little store, and his wax played out and his heart grew sore; so he winged his way to the old home band, and took his meals at the Helping Hand.

Moral—Alone our work is of little worth; together we are the lords of the earth, so its all for each and its each for all—United we stand or divided we fall.

Jokes
 Mr. Crawford (in General Science Class). Now we have completed the experiment which shows that heat expands things and cold contracts them. Can anyone in the class give me an example.

Mary Burrows: Yes ma'am. Days are longest in the summer. Johnny Lindstrom: I didn't bring any excuse for being absent yesterday. Ma was too busy to busy to write one this morning.

Miss Knapp: Then why didn't your father write it?
 Johnny: Shucks, Dad's no good at making excuses, ma always finds them out and your a lot smarter than ma.

Chas. Button (to druggist). Be sure you write on there that that medicine is for Virgil. I've got some automobile dope in my pocket and I don't dare get them mixed 'Cause I don't want nuthin' t' happen to that Ford of mine.

A gentleman went into Cook's store one day and asked to see a good grade of suspenders. Doris the clerk, showed him a pair and said, "These are the best I have."

"Well," said the man, "they won't do. They are not strong enough."
 "But," said Doris, "They will cost you only 25c. Surely at that price, a man wouldn't be losing much."
 "Not unless he lost his pants," replied the man and walked out.
 Coy, (doing her shopping in the A & P. Do you keep dates?
 Gus: I'd never keep you waiting a minute.

Miss Boorman: Dick, how many seasons are there?
 Dick: You mean in the United States?
 Miss B: Yes.
 Dick: Two.
 Miss B: Only two? Name them.
 Dick: Football and baseball.
 Elroy E. was lamenting the loss of his pal Fido.
 "Why don't you put a want ad in the paper," he asked?
 "Want ad? Shucks! Fido can't read."

CLARENCEVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB

The monthly meeting of the Clarenceville Woman's Club was held January 7 at the home of Mrs. Charles Hubert. The subject discussed was the life of Abraham Lincoln. This being the first meeting of the year, it was decided to continue the subject at another date.

The next monthly meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Spencer LeFevre on February 10th; the subject will be the gift of Longfellow. Roll call by quotation from the author.

Insurance is the great bridge that carries the nation across the river of adversity when the floods rises and the wading or the canoeing is bad.

NOTICE
 There are quite a number of library books that are past due. Please be so kind as to return them as soon as possible.
 In a few weeks our library will undergo a change. Try and be as prompt as you can in returning the books.
