

Armistice Day

November 11 marks the ninth anniversary since the close of the World War. In token of the honor and respect which we bear to those who helped to bring this struggle to an end, we pause for the moment in silent prayer.

To us were left problems to solve which taxed the ingenuity of Nations. Let us help in the solution of these problems by taking an intelligent attitude towards them and by eliminating extravagance from our personal affairs.

This bank can help you and you can help us in shouldering this responsibility.
