Kitchens of Ease

How many, many women since Eve have longed for a "cookless" world!—for a kind of man that could live without dining!

Impossible, of course! But relief has come in another way. The Electric Range takes drudgery and discomfort out of the kitchen. It brings peace and leisure to the housewife.

The Electric Range is automatic; it cooks without thought or attention. You put your dinner into the oven and touch a switch or two—that's all! When dinner time comes, your dinner is ready for the table, perfectly cooked.

Come in and let us tell you more about it

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Giegler of Hartland spent Tuesday with relatives here.

Mrs. James Heliker is very sick with a severe cold. Mr. Brining's parents are caring for her.

The East Walled Lake group met for their extension work or nutrition under the leadership of Mrs. Grace Heliker and Mrs. William Kurtz at Mrs. Marie Walter's home Tuesday. The lesson was on "How different foods affect the body." A nutrition luncheon was served at noon. The same group had their lesson in home management under the leadership of Miss Doretha Kurtz and Mrs. Elizabeth Heliker. It was a very interesting one, on the arrangement of the kitchen. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Irvin Knapp, December 16 with a nutrition lunch at noon.

The Willing Workers of West Farmington had a very successful bazaar, grab bag and chicken dinner at West Bloomfield town hall Thursday, with Mrs. Arthur Green acting as hostess. The 50
