

Lumber Shifts To New Sizes

Every part of the country now is, or soon will be, supplied with framing lumber cut to new sizes backed by the U.S. Department of Commerce, reports the Western Wood Products Association, Portland, Or.

Last of the major grade supervising groups to change over completely, WWPFA is calling in from its member mills all old stamps, by April 1. In early March new stamps were in the hands of mills accounting for more than 95 percent of output.

Builder and handyman alike should find new sizes easier to figure and work with, says Neal Pinson, WWPFA's technical director. The new sizes:

Dimension lumber, seasoned, 1 1/2 inches thick by 3 1/2, 5 1/2, 7 1/2, 9 1/4 and 1 1/4 inches wide. Boards, seasoned, 3/4-inch thick by the new widths.

COVER UP—Armstrong Cork Company has extended specifications for its Tile-On Installation System to include all service gauge Excelon vinyl-asbestos tiles. The new recommendation, employing Armstrong's Tile-On Cement S-139, permits installation of service gauge Excelon tile directly over old resilient flooring, as shown above, providing the existing floor is smooth surfaced, free of dust or wax, and securely bonded to the subfloor. The Tile-On system can be used at all grade levels and is suitable for use over linoleum, sheet vinyl, terrazzo, or asphalt and vinyl-asbestos tiles. Tile-On Cement S-139, is a rapid-setting adhesive that simplifies flooring replacement by eliminating the need for removal of old flooring or putting down wood underlayment before a new floor can be installed. In addition, the cement dries to a clear color, a feature which facilitates handling of the tile during installation and eliminates the "black cement" mess usually associated with do-it-yourself flooring replacement. Armstrong previously had restricted the Tile-On system for use only with 1/8" and 3/32" Excelon tile.

STOW IT!—The American Plywood Association's two way storage divider provides a new means for separating adjacent rooms while giving both rooms access to a handy shelf area. Used to divide a kitchen from a family or living room, for example, the storage divider helps to reduce the kitchen clutter and the noise from appliances in operation, while giving a greater degree of privacy to both areas. Designed with a drop leaf desk and shelves to accommodate stereo equipment, records, tapes and other space-consuming items on its front side, the versatile divider offers cupboards for china and glassware on the rear side. Although much of the shelf space on both sides is open for display of decorative items, closed off storage drawers which may be reached from either side of the divider, provide undercover spots for small clutter-creating items. The contemporary look lent to the divider by the curved edges of the sliding doors, can be sharpened by alternating the shell colors in bright coordinated hues. The plans for this useful and decorative plywood shelving wall may be obtained for 25 cents from the American Plywood Association, 1119 A Street, Tacoma, Washington 98401.
